THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION.

VOL. XXXVIII.—No. 21 ATLANTA, GA., THURSDAY MORNING, JULY 6, 1905.—TWELVE PAGES. PRICE FIVE CENTS

O. B. STEVENS CHOSEN; SUCCEEDS POPE BROWN

HON. O. B. STEVENS,
Comissioner of Agriculture, Whose Appointment as Railroad Comissioner To Succeed Chairman Pope Brown Was Sent to the Senate by Governor Terrell Yesterday.

Appointment as Railroad Commissioner Was Sent to Senate by the Governor Yesterday---Leaves Agricultural Department at Once.

As was predicted by The Constitution, the appointment of Hon. O. B. Stevens, of the county of Terrell, as railroad commissioner to succeed Hon. Pope Brown, of Pulaski county, was yesterday transmitted to the senate by Governor Terrell.

If confirmed by the senate, the appointment will take effect October 15, and is for a period of six years.

In an interview with a representative of The Constitution yesterday, Commissioner Stevens stated that in the event of his appointment as railroad commissioner was confirmed by the senate, he intended to resign as commissioner of agriculture just as soon as he could get the affairs of the agricultural department in proper shape to be transmitted to his successor.

"As to the financial affairs of the department," stated Mr. Stevens, "would wind up that part of our business with the state in ten minutes, but, owing to the time of the year, it will take us several weeks to get other matters in proper shape for a new commissioner, and I will not turn over the office to a successor until every detail has been carefully attended to.

"I will hold a conference with State Chemist Dr. J. M. McCandless, and we will wind up the affairs of the office. I hope to be able to get the business of the office in proper shape for a successor by August 1, as I wish to take a rest in the mountains before I assume the duties of railroad commissioner. I want to go where I will have to do nothing but eat and sleep for a few weeks, and get a needed rest."

It is generally understood that Hon. T. G. Hudson, of Americus, Sumter county, will succeed Mr. Stevens as commissioner of agriculture. This has not been definitely stated, but the belief is prevalent that Mr. Hudson will get the appointment for the unexpired term.

Mr. Hudson is well known in the state. He was a prominent figure in the last general assembly, representing his district in the senate.

Captain R. F. Wright, assistant commissioner of agriculture, is not an applicant for the appointment as commissioner of agriculture, nor has he filed any of his indorsements for that position with the governor. Although it was Captain Wright's ambition to succeed to the commissionership in the event of Colonel Stevens' appointment as railroad commissioner, when he learned that the governor felt he could not make two appointments from the same office, rather than stand in the way of the appointment of Colonel Stevens, Captain Wright voluntarily went to Governor Terrell and told him he would not be an applicant. Had he decided to make the race, Captain Wright could have presented numerous strong indorsements from all parts of the state.

TRADUCERS OF GEORGIA ATTACKED BY LIVINGSTON

Duty of Citizens, Congressman Says, to Protect Good Name of State.

NOTABLE ADDRESS MADE AT NEWTON CELEBRATION

Fifth District Congressman Defends, in Emphatic Language, the Democratic Administration of the Affairs of State.

Covington, Ga., July 5.—(Special.)—At a great Fourth of July farmers' rally, which took place at Oakhill, in this county, more than 6,000 people from Newton and surrounding counties assembled to hear Congressman Livingston and Hon. Madison Bell, of Atlanta, and to enjoy the exercises of the day. It was the largest gathering of the kind ever held in this county.

The exercises were opened with prayer by Rev. L. J. Eckles, after which an address of welcome was delivered by Professor J. P. Cooley. Colonel Frank Reagan responded to this.

Quite a large number of the Sunday schools of this vicinity joined in the singing contest that followed, after which a Sunday school address was delivered by Hon. C. D. McKinney, of Atlanta.

Hon. Madison Bell was the next speaker. He dwelt in a general way on the duties of American citizenship and was enthusiastically applauded. He made no reference to state politics, but made a beautiful address of about thirty minutes.

Congressman Livingston's Thunder.

Hon. L. F. Livingston, member of congress from the fifth district, presided at the meeting, and made the last speech of the day. He made a magnificent address and created great enthusiasm by the ardor of his defense of the good name of the state of Georgia from the recent attacks which have been made on it. He called no names, but every utterance went to the mark.

In speaking of political conditions in the state of Georgia, Colonel Livingston said, among other things, that a man was a knave and a fool who thought he could make the people believe that if he was elected governor he could pass all reform measures; that the governor had his duties as executive head to perform, and that it was the duty of the legislature to pass such bills as the welfare of the state demanded.

Colonel Livingston said that it was a slander upon the intelligence of the voters of this commonwealth for a man to think that he could ride into office by traducing the good name of the state and its honest office holders. He cited a recent conversation with a very prominent man in Washington, D. C., who said to him: "Livingston, what on earth is the matter with Georgia? Are her public office holders as rotten as the people would be lead to believe from recently published newspaper statements concerning political addresses there?" Colonel Livingston said that he extended assurance that the state was being maligned and misrepresented for selfish political purposes. He said he told him that there was not a more cleanly administered state in the whole Union, and not a better illustration of true and honest democratic government was to be found than in the administration of the affairs of the state of Georgia for the past quarter of a century.

Colonel Livingston then declared that wherever he had been recently out of Georgia, prominent men were asking him about the "wholesale corruption" being charged against this state. He said it was hurting the state and he thought it was the duty of public sentiment to take hold of it in order that the good name of the state might be protected. These statements, he said, were doing the state great harm.

"I believe in judging people by their public record," said Colonel Livingston. "Let's make no experiments and let us ascertain the record, whether it be on the railroad question or any other question, of every man asking for the suffrage of the people."

CIVIL WAR HAS BEGUN IN RUSSIA

So Reads a Proclamation Which Has Been Issued by the Crew of Battleship Kniaz Potemkine.

SHIP GETS SUPPLIES AND IS AGAIN ROVING OVER THE BLACK SEA

Formal Declaration of War on the Russian Government Considered Shrewd Move on the Part of the Rebels—Vessel Last Seen Off Theodosia.

THEODOSIA, July 5.—The Russian battle ship Kniaz Potemkine has arrived here and asked for coal, provisions and medical attendance. The mutineers demanded that the authorities of the town guarantee their safety during the stay of the ship here.

The mutineers of the Kniaz Potemkine today formally raised the standard of rebellion and issued the following declaration:

"The crew of the Kniaz Potemkine notify the foreign powers that the decisive struggle has begun against the Russian government. We consider it to be our duty to declare that we guarantee the complete inviolability of foreign ships navigating the Black sea, as well as the inviolability of foreign ports."

REBEL WARSHIP DEMANDS SUPPLIES FROM THEODOSIA

Theodosia, Crimea, July 6.—Summoned by the Kniaz Potemkine representatives of the council went on board the battleship and were received in the admiral's cabin by the commissioned commanding her.

The commission demanded the delivery of 500 tons of coal and provisions of various kinds within twenty-four hours, and threatened that in the event of noncompliance, after due warning to the inhabitants, the town would be bombarded.

The commission also proposed that the mayor should transmit to the population a proclamation demanding the termination of the war, a convocation of zemstvos, etc.

Learning of these demands, many inhabitants fled the town. The workmen insisted that the demands be granted.

A special meeting of the municipal council was called and the council consented to deliver the provisions, but refused to comply with the demand for coal for the reason that the town had none.

REVOLUTIONARY VESSEL AGAIN ROVING BLACK SEA

St. Petersburg, July 6.—(2:15 a. m.)—While no official confirmation is obtainable, it is said that the admiralty has received news that the Kniaz Potemkine, after shipping coal, provisions and medicines, is again at large in the Black sea and that her destination is unknown.

Whether the report of the sailing of the battleship be true or not, the crew took a remarkable step yesterday, when with all the solemnity of a provisional government, it issued a manifesto addressed to the powers, announcing that civil war has been begun against the existing regime in Russia and pledging the inviolability of foreign shipping and foreign ports. This action doubtless was taken to quiet apprehensions of foreign powers and to leave no excuse for the sending of warships through the Dardanelles to effect the capture of the battleship, which until now Russia's Black sea fleet has not dared to attempt.

The issuance of the manifesto lends a certain dignity to the mutiny, and proves that the crew and their commander have no desire that the world should believe them to be mere outlaws, but that they should be looked upon as men seriously raising the standard of revolution.

According to a rumor printed in an afternoon paper, the ship's strong box contained $375,000, and the mutineers would, therefore, be well supplied with money.

In circles closely in touch with the revolutionists, it is regarded as a foregone conclusion that the commander of the Kniaz Potemkine, knowing the situation in the Caucasus, will head for Poti or Batoum, where the revolutionists are exceedingly strong, in the hope of producing a general rising. With the authorities in the Caucasus almost powerless to prevent it, such a contingency is by no means impossible.

Dispatches from Tiflis received last night say that reports of the rioting at Odessa and the action of the Kniaz Potemkine have aroused the most intense interest and the wildest joy among the revolutionists. The receipt of the report was followed immediately by a complete strike, even the lamplighters quitting work. The city is in darkness, and the inhabitants generally are fleeing to the northward.

Order has not been restored at Byelostok. A censored telegram received last night reports that shooting has been heard, that crowds are fleeing and that wild excitement prevails, but no details are given.

POWERS ARE WATCHING REBELLIOUS WARSHIP

London, July 6.—It is understood that the movements of the Kniaz Potemkine are engaging the serious attention of the powers, who are exchanging views on the possible necessity of taking joint measures to protect neutral commerce in the Black sea. According to the Associated Press dispatches from Vienna, however, nothing will be done, even in the shape of joint representations to the Russian government, except in the last extremity, it being desired to avoid wounding Russia's sensibilities.

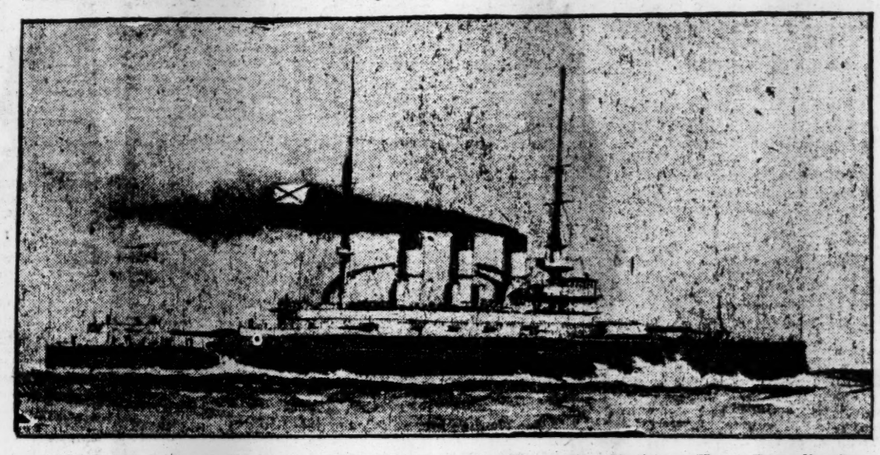

Speical dispatches from Constantinople give an unconfirmed report that the Kniaz Potemkine engaged two British officers at Kustenji.

According to a dispatch to The Standard from Kustenji, the Kniaz Potemkine is managed by an executive committee numbering fifty, and there is no sign of any officer on the ship.

The Odessa correspondent of The Standard asserts that the Black sea squadron, including the Georgi Pobiedonosetz, has now been sent in search of the Kniaz Potemkine.

NEGROES KILL THEIR FATHER

Desperadoes Opened Fire on Sheriff and Posse.

They Fired on Buggy in Which an Officer Had Their Father Under Arrest—Old Man Killed and Officer Mortally Wounded.

Tunica, Miss., July 5.—(Special.)—Mark and Robert Harris, the DeSoto county negroes who killed Bob Maston near Tunica, June 21, and who have since eluded capture, today at their home near Walls shot and killed their own father and dangerously wounded Aubrey Gardner, of Tunica, a young man who was in a posse that had gone to arrest the Harris negroes.

The negroes were concealed in a corn field, and as Sheriff Owens, of Tunica county, and posse passed down the road, having in their keeping the father of the Harris negroes and their younger brother, whom they had arrested as accomplices in the Maston murder, they stepped to the edge of the field and opened fire on the buggy, in which were Aubrey Gardner and their aged father. One shot dispatched the old man and the other hit Gardner in the abdomen, wounding him so seriously that his life is despaired of.

Sheriff Owens and his posse returned the fire and then rushed into the field after the men. The negroes, however, escaped. Several posses are now searching for them, and it is believed that they will soon be overtaken.

Gardner has been brought to Memphis and placed in a hospital.

Horses Killed by Lightning.

Valdosta, Ga., July 5.—(Special.)—The barn on the summer home of Hon. J. R. Ashley, a few miles north of town, was struck by lightning last night and two fine horses killed. No damage was done to the building, and another horse in the same inclosure was not hurt.

The barns on the farm of John Boston, a prominent farmer of this county, lying south of the city, were burned last Friday night, destroying the bulk of his farm implements and machinery, and a large quantity of forage, etc. The origin of the fire is supposed to have been accidental. Loss $1,200; no insurance.

STARS AND STRIPES FLOAT OVER LEE CAMP

RICHMOND, Va., July 5.—For the first time in the history of the institution, Lee camp, Concederate soldiers home, near this city, yesterday, flung to the breeze from its flagstaff the stars and stripes.

ENDEAVOR HOST IN CONVENTION

Twenty-Second Annual Gathering in Session at Baltimore.

About 8,000 Delegates Are in Attendance—All the Old Officers Reelected—Memorial Service for Late Secretary of State Hay.

Baltimore, Md., July 5.—The formal opening of the twenty-second International Christian Endeavor convention took place this afternoon in Armory hall, with about 8,000 delegates present, and nearly all of the 16,000 seats in the vast auditorium occupied. The hall had been ornately decorated for the occasion, and the scene presented was one of extraordinary picturesqueness and animation.

Preceding the formal opening of the convention there was held a business meeting of the United Society of Christian Endeavor (corporation), at which officers and trustees for the ensuing year were elected and annual reports of the officers were presented. All the old officers were reelected, as follows:

President, Rev. Dr. Francis E. Clarke; general secretary, Von Ogden Vogt; treasurer, W. M. Shaw.

In the absence of President Francis E. Clarke, who is detained at home by illness, Rev. Howard B. Grose, of New York, presided, and opened the proceedings with brief and appropriate remarks.

Letter from Roosevelt.

Treasurer Shaw, of the United Society, read the following letter:

"Oyster Bay, July 4, 1905.—Rev. Francis E. Clarke, D.D., President United Society Endeavor, Baltimore: I am very sorry that it has been found impossible for me to accept your invitation to address the Christian Endeavor convention. But will you permit me to send through you a word of greeting to those assembled and to heartily wish them continued success in the work in which they are engaged?

"The work of your society during the quarter of a century of its existence has been far reaching in its effect for good.

"To make better citizens, to lift up the standard of American manhood and womanhood, is to do the greatest service to the country. The stability of this government depends on the individual character of its citizenship. No more important work can be done, important to the cause of Christianity as well to our national life and greatness.

"THEODORE ROOSEVELT."

The reading of this letter evoked hearty applause and the convention voted unanimously to send the following reply:

"Baltimore, Md., July 5, 1905.—President Theodore Roosevelt, President's Train, Lake Shore Railway, Cleveland, Ohio.—Thousands of Christian Endeavorers from many lands honor, with you, the memory of Secretary Hay. We thank you for your inspiring message. We beg you to stop at Baltimore on your way home and let us hear your voice in a plea for the noble citizenship you exemplify. Any hour, day or night, will do.

"WILLIAM SHAW."

After the singing of the doxology by the great audience and a prayer by the Rev. Dr. Floyd Thompson, of Philadelphia, there were exercises, including a brief memorial service for the late Secretary of State John Hay, conducted by Rev. Dr. R. D. Power, of Washington, and the Christian Endeavor rally song was sung by the chorus as a welcome to the visitors.

Governor Edwin Warfield, of Maryland, delivered an address of welcome that was enthusiastically applauded. The governor was followed by Mayor E. Clay Timanus, in a brief speech of welcome.

The Rev. Oliver Huckel, on behalf of Baltimore, also the ministers of this city and state, welcomed the delegates.

W. O. Atwood, of Baltimore, chairman of the convention committee, then welcomed the delegates and visitors.

In the absence of Dr. Clarke, Rev. Dr. Smith Baker, pastor of the Mother Society church, Williston Congregational church, of Portland, Maine, responded to the addresses of welcome in behalf of the delegates.

This was followed by the anthem, "The Heavens are Telling," by Haydn, rendered by the convention chorus, with splendid effect, and conducted by R. A. Harris, of Baltimore.

The annual review of the Christian Endeavor field was read by Secretary General Von Ogden Vogt.

The convention then took a recess until 7:30 p. m.

RUSSIA LONGS FOR ARMISTICE

But Pride Keeps Her From Asking for It.

Unless Japan Grants Armistice, She May Cause Cataclysm of Anarchy in Russia, Which Will Probably Destroy the Government.

St. Petersburg, July 5.—The situation regarding the armistice is as follows:

Russia has formally signified to President Roosevelt her desire for a lasting peace not only by the appointment of plenipotentiaries who will be accompanied by eminent experts fully empowered to conclude a treaty subject only to the ratification of the respective governments, but as a final step as indicated her readiness to suspend hostilities. She has avoided formally asking for an armistice as a matter of pride. But under the circumstances Russia could hardly go further than she has. Japan so far as known has not yet indicated her attitude, or if she has, Russia up to this afternoon has not been so informed. In diplomatic circles the most earnest hope is expressed that Japan will consent both for the sake of avoiding further bloodshed in Manchuria and perhaps in order to prevent a catastrophe in Russia which may shake the Romanoff throne and appall the world by its horrors.

An eminent ambassador of a great European power said today:

"If Japan declines it may prove to be a misfortune for the whole world. The position of Russia is critical. The emperor, crushed by the defeats in the Far East and with almost civil war at home, has bowed his head to the inevitable. He wants peace and Japan has the proofs in her possession. Japan has vindicated her power before the world and has won the admiration of the world. Nothing becomes a victor so much as a broad spirit of magnanimity. If Japan still insists in humbling the emperor's head into the dust and forcing a useless battle which will result in the open loss of tens of thousands of lives, she may produce a cataclysm of anarchy greater than that of the French revolution, which will leave her no government to negotiate with besides threatening the peace of Europe. The usual precedents for the conclusion of a war are reversed in this case. An armistice generally precedes an agreement on the time and place for a meeting of negotiators. Now that the steps which usually follow a suspension of hostilities have been arranged, why should Japan simply, because she enjoys the advantage of the military situation, inflict another defeat with its accompanying slaughter?

"Nothing would be gained by it and much might be lost."

NINE INJURED BY EXPLOSION.

Two of the Miners Died as Result of Hurts.

Bluefield, W. Va., July 5.—By an explosion in the Tidewater mine at Vivian, 20 miles west of this city, today nine miners, all of whom were Italians, were injured and two of them died later in the hospital, while three more are in a precarious condition, with slight chances of recovery. All of the men were burned badly. The dead are:

LEE MOZZILLE.
ANTONIO BUPITOMIO.

The Tidewater mine is located about 20 miles from Vivian, W. Va., about 30 miles from Bluefield, and is owned and operated by the Tidewater Coal and Coke Company.

WILL HAVE A TALK WITH HIM.

Governor of North Carolina To Visit Governor of New York.

Raleigh, N. C., July 5.—(Special.)—Governor Glenn, after his visit to New York city, goes to Albany to have a talk with the governor of New York regarding the proposed attempt of certain stock brokers of New York city to have North Carolina sued by the state of New York for principal and interest of the special tax bonds. Governor Glenn, a few days ago, wrote a very strong letter in regard to these fraudulent bonds. The talk about attempting to collect them has aroused a great deal of feeling in North Carolina, and will, no doubt, have the same effect in other states of the south, the purpose of the men who are behind this scheme being to make the North Carolina matter what may be termed a test case.

STORM LEFT MANY TOWNS MERE HEAPS

Twisting Terror Struck at Various Points and Everywhere Left Death and Destruction in Its Wake.

BELIEVED 40 PERSONS WERE LEFT CORPSES AND SCORES INJURED

Wires Are All Down in the Territory Devastated by the Storm, and Full Details as to the Number of Dead and Injured Cannot Be Obtained.

Fort Worth, Texas, July 5.—A tornado, which struck Texas in the upper edge of Montague county, coming from the northeast and swinging far to the southeast, this afternoon cost, it is believed, over forty lives, injured a large number of people and did untold damage to growing crops and cattle.

Fortunately, the tornado missed the small towns in the section through which it swept, but it seemed to take a fiendish delight in zig-zagging in such a way as to take in the homes of many farmers and stock raisers in the section.

Wind Was Terrific.

At Jacksboro, the force of the wind was terrific. The Baptist church and twenty other buildings were blown off their foundations and a number of buildings totally destroyed.

Mrs. Travis Calhoun was seriously injured and is not expected to live. Travis Calhoun, Mrs. Thomas Horton and Henry Vesser and family were also injured.

At Montague no lives were lost in the town, but in the country there was great loss of life reported.

Owing to the fact that wires are down in all directions, it is difficult to get particulars. Ten persons are known to be dead in that neighborhood and unconfirmed reports are to the effect that the list of dead will go as high as forty. Most of those killed lived on Salt creek.

THE WEATHER.

Washington, July 5.—Forecast for Thursday and Friday:

Georgia: Showers Thursday and on the coast Friday; fresh south winds.

Virginia, North Carolina and South Carolina—Showers and thunder storms Thursday; Friday fair; light to fresh south winds.

Eastern Florida, Western Florida, Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana—Showers Thursday and Friday; light south winds.

along which the tornado swept with special force.

Dead Number Fourteen.

At Nacona the tornado passed a few miles to the south, and latest reports give the dead at fourteen and the injured at forty-one.

Many farm houses were swept entire, away. The Long Branch school house was destroyed, and the Baptist and Methodist churches at Belcher were practically destroyed.

A reliable man at Nacona, who has been been over the scene, says that reports were being received of the dead when he left there, and he places the loss at sixty.

Owing to the widely separated homes and the fact that in many instances whole families were wiped out, details and names are hard to get.

The country through which the tornado passed is one of the richest farming sections of Texas, lying along the northern border of the state.

Only Dead and Dying.

Nacona, Tex., July 5.—A tornado and thunderstorm passed a few miles west and south of here this afternoon, killing fourteen persons and injuring many others, and destroying a number of houses. The latest reports from the stormswept district gives the following casualties:

The Dead.

MRS. C. C. SHACKLEFORD.
LINNIE SHACKLEFORD, daughter of R. G. Shackelford.
MRS. S. L TUMBLESON AND THREE CHILDREN.
MRS. MARY LESTER AND FOUR CHILDREN.
CALEB WHITE.
MRS. IRB WILLIAMS.
IRB WILLIAMS.
FRANK, son of Sam Eakin, killed by lightning.

Injured.

James Simpson.
Miss Alice Simpson.
—— Moore, arm broken.
—— Hobbs, fatally.
C. R. Christian and family.
C. H. Williams, leg broken.
Miss Nannie Austin, seriously.
J. J. Woodson.
Frank Woodson, the latter seriously.
Mrs. Jessie.
R. G. Shackelford and wife.
Z. W. Shackelford, injured about the head.

Four of his children also received serious wounds. A child of Mrs. Mary Lester is believed to be fatally wounded.

Many Houses Swept Away.

Many farm houses were swept away. The school house 3 miles west of here was damaged.

Baptist and Methodist churches at Belcher were considerably damaged. The Methodist church at Montague is reported wrecked, and the court house damaged, also other churches there. The Dixie school house, 6 miles south of here, was entirely blown away. Hail stones as large as hen eggs fell here breaking out many window glasses.

Reports of the work of the tornado are still coming in. The number of killed and injured will probably reach sixty.

Ten Persons Killed at Montague.

Montague, Texas, July 5.—Ten people are dead as a result of a tornado that passed over Montague this afternoon.

The Dead.

J. P. EARLE.
MISS SADIE EARLE, daughter of J. P. Earle.
BURKE EARLE, his son.
BABY OF LAWRENCE PILLOW.
TOMLINSON FAMILY, consisting of husband, wife and four children.

Fatally Injured.

Claiborn White, 45 years old.

Houses Totally Demolished.

J. F. Clark's drug store; D. Y. Lunn's grocery store and offices; old bank building, occupied by G. L. Alcorn, real estate agent; store of Rowe Hardware Company; fifteen dwellings.

The tornado lasted perhaps thirty minutes. Hundreds of head of stock in this vicinity were killed outright by the wind.

The number of injured is unknown.

Washington Flooded by Cloudburst.

Washington, July 5.—One of the heaviest rain storms ever experienced in Washington occurred tonight when the downpour reached almost the proportions of a cloudburst. Between 7:22 and 8:40 p. m. the rainfall amounted to 3.11 inches, a greater amount than during any day of 24 hours with but three exceptions during the past thirty-three years. It was very hot and oppressive during the day, with considerable moisture in the air. Considerable damage was done about the extensive railroad terminal improvements now in progress here.

At various places in the south there was also unusually great precipitation. At Raleigh there were three inches of rainfall; at Norfolk 2 inches and at Baltimore Is Flooded.

Baltimore, Md., July 5.—The lower lying of the business district of this city are under water, the result of a cloudburst in Baltimore county and the backing up of the waters of the harbor by recent southwest winds. There will be much damage, which, however, cannot be estimated at present. Street car travel on all lines running through the central part of the city is paralyzed.

Just before midnight a heavy rainfall began in the city. Holiday street, upon which the city hall fronts, is under water half a block north of that building.

France Ravaged by Storms.

Paris, July 5.—Thunderstorms with gales of unknown violence accompanied by hail storms, visited northern and central France today. Two men were killed at Angers, where enormous damage was done to the crops. Near Orleans eighty houses were razed and many people were injured. In the environs of Lyons and Chambrey the crops were ruined.

JOHN HAY RESTS IN MOTHER EARTH

Remains of the Diplomat Interred at Cleveland.

President Roosevelt and Members of Cabinet in Attendance — The Funeral Services Were of a Simple Character.

Cleveland, O., July 5.—The body of John Hay rests, tonight, in his family burying ground in a corner of Lakeview cemetery. Five hundred feet to the west of where the great secretary lies, is the great memorial of James A. Garfield, two hundred feet to the north rises the monolith of the Rockefeller family.

The services throughout were admirably conducted—in most excellent taste, and from the arrival of President Roosevelt, in the morning, until his departure, in the afternoon, brought the official day to its end, not a single untoward incident was in evidence.

President Roosevelt's train, on the Pennsylvania railroad, rolled into the union depot exactly at the time set—9 o'clock.

Troop A, of the Ohio National Guard, which was to act as the president's escort, flashed a salute as the president appeared. He raised his hat in acknowledgement. As soon as the members of the cabinet had entered their carriages, the cavalry passed to the front of the column, with the exception of four troopers, who rode two on each side of the President's carriage. The party was driven to the Chamber of Commerce, where the body lay.

Casket Not Opened.

Mrs Hay had expressed a desire that the casket be not opened unless President Roosevelt should express a desire to gaze upon the face of his secretary once more. This was explained to the president at the train, and he at once expressed himself as unwilling to disturb the arrangements already made.

At just 10 o'clock the funeral left the Chamber of Commerce. The casket, carried by six non-commissioned officers of the cavalry troop, was borne to the hearse between two lines formed by the present and former cabinets, who acted as honorary pallbearers.

None of the members of the Hay family was at the Chamber of Commerce, and in company with a few friends they of the funeral cortege at Wade chapel inside the cemetery grounds.

Exactly on the minute of 11 o'clock Captain Schofield, of Troop A, brought his men to a halt at the chapel door. Mrs. Hay, Clarence Hay, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Mather, Mr. and Mrs. James W. Wadsworth, Jr., son in law and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hay, with a few of their friends were already in the chapel.

With Uncovered Heads.

The casket, covered with the national colors, and the beautiful wreaths sent by President and Mrs. Roosevelt, and by the members of the diplomatic corps, was carried in, the president, vice president and honorary pallbearers following with uncovered heads. The services were simple, comprising prayer, scripture reading and a hymn, Rev. Dr. Hayden and Rev. A. B. Meldrum officiating.

As the body was removed Tennyson's "Crossing the Bar" was sung. At the grave, a hymn was sung, followed by the committal services and benediction.

Mrs. Hay turned away from the grave, and as she passed President Roosevelt reached our her hand to him. He took it in both of his own, bowing deeply as he did so.

Mrs. Hay, with the members of her family, returned to the residence of Samuel Mather, with the president and his party party went directly to his train, which left soon after 1 o'clock for the east.

Emory's Summer School.

Oxford, Ga., July 5.—(Special.)—The Emory college summer school continues to grow in popularity among those needing preparation for entering the college classes in the fall. Old and new students continue to arrive daily to take up work in the several departments of the school. It is perhaps the largest summer school that has been held at Emory for many years, and it is certain that more will yet enroll for work. Dr. Turner, the head of the school, is a most energetic and systematic worker, and he has strengthened the school's usefulness by several changes of the organization and administration of the school.

Farmer Drops Dead.

Asheville, N. C., July 5.—(Special.)—Erwin Rymer, a prominent farmer of Swannanoa, N. C., dropped dead on the street here yesterday evening while talking to several friends. He was apparently in good health, and no reason can be given for his sudden death. An inquest will be held tomorrow.

Wants New York To Sue Equitable.

Albany, N. Y., July 5.—Attorney General Mayer has received a letter from State Senator E. T. Brackett, in which the later as a policy holder and attorney for other policy holders asks that the state bring action against and oust any director of the Equitable Life Assurance Society who does not own the five shares of stock required by the rules of the society. The attorney general has taken no action as yet.

BEEF PACKERS FURNISH BONDS

Four of the Indicted Men Absent From Chicago.

Bonds Were for $5,000 Each, and Were Signed by Surety Companies—List of the Men Who Appeared in Court.

Chicago, July 5.—Bonds were furnished today by three of the packing companies and thirteen of the individual packers indicted by the federal grand jury last Friday.

Four of the indicted packers are still absent from Chicago, but United States District Attorney Morrison announced tonight that these absentees would be given ample time in which to sign bonds. Attorney Morrison declared that the packers with such large holdings as they have in Chicago would make no attempt to escape trial, and that the federal authorities were safe in allowing them considerable time.

The bonds signed today were for $5,000 each, and were secured by surety companies. The corporations furnishing the bonds were Armour & Co., Swift & Co. and the Fairbanks Canning Company. The individual bonds were for Arthur J. Meeker, general manager of Armour & Co.; Louis F. Swift, president of Swift & Co.; Edward Swift, vice president of Swift & Co.; Lawrence A. Carten, treasurer of Swift & Co.; Robert C. McManus, general counsel for Swift & Co.; Arthur F. Evans, attorney for Swift & Co.; Ira N. Morris, secretary of the Fairbanks Canning Company; J. Ogden Armour, president of Armour & Co.; Charles W. Armour, president of the Armour Packing Company; Samuel McRoberts, assistant treasurer of Armour & Co.; Thomas J. Connors, general superintendent of Armour & Co.; Thomas J. Connors, general superintendent of Armour & Co., and Charles H. Swift, director of Swift & Co.

CHAMP CLARK AT BARNESVILLE

Missouri Statesman Speaks. Napier's Tribute to Jefferson Davis.

Barnesville, Ga., July 5.—(Special.)—The Barnesville chautauqua continues its sessions very succesfully, and the people are well pleased with the attractions. The attendance is unusually good.

Tuesday night Hon. George M. Napier lectured on Jefferson Davis. His lecture was a masterpiece of eloquence and a glowing tribute to the confederate president. At the close of his speech Mr. Napier paid a high compliment to the Jeff Davis county movement and he was given an enthusiastic ovation. His peroration on the new county movement was:

"I am aware, my fellow citizens of this community, of your hopes for the establishment of a new county.

"It seems to me that success is sure to crown your efforts. The name of Jefferson Davis is one to conquer with. Surely the state of Georgia will honor itself by honoring the name of the great man whose character and achievements we have considered this evening.

"And let me say, without the use of a single word of fame praise, that your proposed new county will be well worthy that illustrious name. In a section of our state which has helped largely to perpetuate the history of the Georgia of the 'old south,' in possessing a fertile and responsive soil, a splendid citizenry—progressive, cultured, loyal—and with a capital for the new county already provided in this splendid and thriving young city, you have, with the name of Davis blazoned on your banner, what should be an irresistible and triumphant cause before the general assembly of Georgia.

"And, in the future annals of this great state, I predict that one of the noblest, greatest, most renowned counties will be this one of yours—with its men of unsurpassed enterprise and character, and its women of superlative beauty and charm—a county whose glories of climate, soil, citizenship, culture and progress will be perpetuated to the end of time under that name of increasing fame and sacredness and glory in the hearts of Georgians and southerners—Jefferson Davis."

Wednesday morning a musical programme was rendered by the Chicago Glee Club, Miss Scott and Lily's orchestra, after which the lecture began.

Congressmen Bartlett and Adamson occupied seats on the stage, and in a short, pithy talk Mr. Bartlett introduced the speaker of the day, Hon. Champ Clark, who lectured on "The United States of America in the Twentieth Century." He reviewed at length the progress made by the United States in the past, and pictured a glowing future for us. He said that America would be the first power in the world at the close of this century.

Mr. Clark stepped aside to pay his respects in no mincing terms to Roosevelt's Philippine policy. He also took occasion to urge the necessity of the citizenship of this country going to the primary and fulfilling his duty there, and said the safety of the country lay in that. Mr. Clark's speech was well received, and he was given an attentive hearing.

Wednesday evening the chautauqua patrons were given the opportunity of hearing the prince of humorists, Hon. Lou J. Beauchamp. Mr. Beauchamp pleased his audience as few platform artists have done.

The teachers' institute of Pike county is proving of much interest and benefit to those who are in attendance. Tomorrow will be Children's day, and the little folks will have full sway.

Case Against Congressman Hermann.

Portland, Oreg., July 5.—In the federal court today the case against Congressman Binger Hermann, indicted in connection with the land frauds in this state, was placed at the bottom of the calendar. This is believed to indicate that Hermann will first be brought to trial on the indictment returned against him in Washington, D. C., the local case remaining in abeyance until the District of Columbia courts have finished.

Great Strike at Montevideo.

New York, July 5.—The British steamer Queen Olga, from ports on the west coast of South America, which arrived here tonight, reports a general strike of all port hands at Montevideo. The vessel was unable to obtain a supply of coal, and had to proceed to Rio Janeiro to bunker. Captain MacMahon reports that at Montevideo 12,000 men are out on strike.

THEY ATTACKED THEIR GUARDS

Convicts on Chatham County Farm Frustrated in Plot.

Savannah, Ga., July 5.—(Special.)—An organized attack on the guards at the Chatham county convict farm was started tonight, but was nipped at its inception by Guard H. White, who was attacked by several negroes, shooting the arm of Robert Gilbert almost entirely off. The shot attracted the attention of the other guards, and put them on the outlook. They made a show of force that quelled the convicts immediately.

MADE NO MONEY ON THE CROP.

Cantaloupe Growers Say Increased Acreage Was the Cause.

Albany, Ga., July 5.—(Special.)—Cantaloupe growers have come out of the small end of the horn this season. Almost without exception those who have taken a round with this fickle crop this year report that they have either sustained considerable loss, or just about made expenses.

All this is in spite of the fact that the fruit this year has been the finest ever grown in southwest Georgia. The trouble is in a large measure due to the fact that the acreage was about 25 per cent larger than last year, when the increase over the previous year was considerable. The fruit attracted attention wherever it was shipped, but only in exceptional cases were the returns satisfactory.

Those growers who have been planting cantaloupes for a number of years regard the venture almost as a gambling enterprise. Not only is the crop one of the most difficult to raise, suffering from the effects of even slightly adverse conditions, but the markets in which the fruit is sold are always uncertain.

A few growers in this part of the state are said to have made a little money, but for one of the lucky kind there are a half dozen growers who have a different kind of tale to tell.

Madison County Teachers.

Danielsville, Ga., July 5.—(Special.)—Madison county teachers are in session here this week. The institute is being conducted by Miss Mamie L. Pitts, of Atlanta. Many important subjects are being discussed. Professor Charles Lane lectured Monday and Tuesday nights, doing work in the institute during the day.

DARTS OF SUN SLAY PEOPLE

Heat at Rome Continues Intense and Very Deadly.

Rome, July 5.—Notwithstanding the prevalence of storms at Milan and throughout northern Italy, the heat at Rome continues to be intense and there were many deaths today from sunstroke. The military authorities have issued orders limiting the drilling of the soldiers—instructing that the men be carefully watched, and that medical attention be given on the appearance of the first symptoms of sunstroke.

The vatican authorities have suspended written examinations to the ecclesiastical colleges and the students of the American college will leave tomorrow for the college villa at Castel Gandolfe, accompanied by the rector, Monsignor Kennedy.

ANGIER LOSES TO W. P. WARD

Birmingham Wins Cup Offered to Tennis Class B.

Louisville, Ky., July 5.—I. F. Read, of Nashville, won the tournament cup in the invitation tournament of the Louisville Golf Club, which closed at the links east of the city today, and Horace H. Lurton, Jr., of the same place, won the handicap event with a score of 82, which is the best mark reached during the meeting. Mr. Read won the tournament cup in class A from F. O. Watts, of Nashville, with the score of 4 up and 3 to play. W. P. Ward, of Birmingham, Ala., won the cup offered to class B from Clarence Angier, of Atlanta, Ga., with the same score, and William Heyburn, of Louisville, won the consolation cup offered in class C from R. L. Whitney, of Louisville, by a similar score.

BEE KEEPPERS IN CONVENTION.

Southern Association Met at Savannah Yesterday.

Savannah, Ga., July 5.—The Southern Bee-Keepers association met here today and discussed methods of bee culture. The convention was but lightly attended, owing to crop conditions, which demanded the attention of many members. S. Cheatham, of Edgefield, S. C., was elected vice president, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of a former incumbent. President J. J. Wilder, of Cordele, Ga., presided.

The next meeting of the convention will be held in Atlanta, next November.

Battle Ship Rams Torpedo Boat.

Berlin, July 6.—The Kiel correspondent of The Kokal Anzeiger says that the battle ship Woerth rammed torpedo boat S 124 in the harbor of Eckernfoerde Wednesday morning, cutting her completely in two, and that three firemen in the boiler room were scalded to death by escaping steam. The S 124 was one of six torpedo boats launched in 1904. She was of 420 tons displacement and had a speed of 30 knots.

Off to Alaska.

Macon, Ga., July 5.—(Special.)—E. Y. Mallary, president of the Commercial and Savings bank here, left today for Alaska. He holds large interests, along with other prominent Macon citizens in the Eagle river gold mines. F. L. Mallary, a brother, has been in Alaska for several months looking after the interests of the company. A son, Nelson, and James Jelks accompanied Mr. Mallary on the trip.

CHILD MURDERED; MOTHER IS HELD

Infant Was Drowned in Tub of Water.

Dead Body Found Hidden in Yard on Morrison Avenuue—Mother Arrested at Barnesville—Coroner's Jury Renders Verdict of Murder.

The inquest over the body of a dead negro child yesterday afternoon and the arrest last night of Annie Jane Laster, the mother of the child, at Barnesville, Ga., ends an investigation by the police which has been going on for several days, and brings to light what the officers say is one of the oddest crimes that has been perpetrated in the city for a long while.

The child was murdered by being drowned in a tub of water, wase the verdict of the coroner's jury, and the verdict ordered that the mother be arrested and held for murder.

Three or four days ago, the police were informed that a child had probably been murdered at Morrison avenue, which runs off from North Boulevard, in the fourth ward. The place was watched, and later on Tuesday evening, it was raided by Call Officers Hulsey and Coker.

After a search of thirty minutes, the dead body of an infant was found hidden in the back yard in the rear of 7 Morrison avenue. It had been there two or three days.

The body was taken to police barracks and turned over to the coroner. Yesterday afternoon an inquest was held and the county physician testified that the child had been killed by being drowned.

Several Arrests Were Made.

Tuesday night, Captain Moon, who had the investigation in charge, had all the inmates of the house, where the body was found, arrested and held until after the inquest. The prisoners knew that Annie Jane Laster had been to their house, but they did not know of her having killed her child. She rented a room from them.

According to the evidence secured by the police, the Laster woman came to Atlanta from Barnesville some two or three weeks ago. It is believed the child was only a few hours old when it was murdered.

The coroner's jury did not order any one except the mother of the child held, and all those under arrest were liberated.

Immediately after the inquest, a telegram was sent to the chief of police at Barnesville to arrest and hold the Laster woman on the charge of murder. Last night at 9 o'clock he 'phoned Captain Moon that the woman was under arrest. He was told to hold her until an officer could go after her this morning.

INSPECTOR LOSES THE MONEY.

Had Collected $1,600 from a Charleston Dispenser.

Columbia, S. C., July 5.—(Special.)—C. S Brown, a dispensary inspector, has lost nearly $1,600. The manner in which the loss occurred is a complete mystery. Brown went to Charleston to check up the books of Dispenser B. H. Matthews, and found a shortage of $1,600. The amount was made up and the inspector started for Columbia. In some manner the money disappeared. The inspector says that he was not drunk, and is absolutely at a loss to account for the occurrence.

Matthews holds the receipt for the money signed by the inspector. There was considerable discussion as to the collection of the amount, the dispensary authorities insisting that the amount be made good, although the law is very defective on this point. The money was finally raised by the inspector, and he has been temporarily suspended. Brown is now engaged in an effort to locate the lost money.

MORTUARY.

Millard F. Dabney, Covington, Ga.

Covington, Ga., July 5.—(Special.)—Millard F. Dabney, a well-known traveling salesman of Atlanta, died suddenly of paralysis at the home of his brother, E. H. Dabney, near Oxford, last night.

J. A. Maddox, Whitesville, Ga.

Whitesville, Ga., July 5.—(Special.)—Funeral services over the body of J. A. Maddox, whose death occurred here Sunday, were conducted yesterday morning. He was buried with Masonic honors, the remains being interred in family burying ground here.

Mr. Maddox was a prominent planter. He served as commissioner of roads and revenues of Harris county for several years and represented his county one term in the general assembly.

He is survived by his widow, seven children, two brothers and three sisters. He was born August 10, 1833, and was 72 years of age at the time of his death.

Death of John T. Smith.

Macon, Ga., July 5.—(Special.)—John T. Smith, a merchant, died at the home of his father, in East Macon, this morning, after a long illness. He was 30 years of age and well known here. He leaves a father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Smith, and a brother and sister to mourn his death. The funeral will occur tomorrow.

Miller Dabney, Oxford, Ga.

Oxford, Ga., July 5.—(Special).—Miller Dabney, of Edgewood, died in Oxford, at the home of his brother, Ed Dabney, this morning. The death was quite sudden, as he was on yesterday seen to be enjoying the Fourth of July. It is thought that he died from heart trouble of some kind, and that it was brought on by getting overheated.

SHORT ITEMS OF LOCAL INTEREST

STONEWALL JACKSON CAMP, NO. 1581, United Confederate Veterans, held an enthusiastic meeting at their hall on East Hunter street last night. A committee was appointed to draft a constitution and by-laws for the new camp. Judge Edgar H. Orr was elected an honorary member.

THE RAGLAND COAL COMPANY, of Ragland, Ala., was yesterday awarded the coal contract of the water department for the next six months. This company, which has been supplying coal to the water department for some time past made a bid of $2.28 for the "run of the mines," which was accepted by the water board at the regular meeting of that body yesterday. It was also decided to ask council for permission to furnish a free water service to Mrs. Ed DeBray, widow of the murdered policeman. Besides the matters mentioned, nothing but routine business was transacted.

REV. DR. JONES, PASTOR OF ST. Mark Methodist Episcopal church, will deliver one of his popular and entertaining lectures at St. Paul church, on Hunter street, at 8 o'clock this evening. Dr. Jones' subject will be "Lovers and Husbands." A small admission fee will be charged, the proceeds being applied to the fund for the purchase of a church organ.

MRS. GEORGIA E. AVERY, WIFE of William Avery, died about 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the residence near East Point, Ga. Funeral services will be held in Battle Hill church at 3 o'clock this afternoon, and the interment will be in Westview. Rev. J. M. Spinks will officiate.

J. RHODES BROWNE IS CHOSEN

As Member Columbus Water Works Commission.

Columbus, Ga., July 5.—(Special.)—At the regular meeting of the city council this evening, J. Rhodes Browne, president of the Muscogee County Howell Club, was elected to succeed E. F. Roberts, resigned, as a members of the water works commission, for Roberts' unexpired term, which expires in January, and also for the succeeding term of four years. William B. Slade, a broiner in law of Mr. Browne, was nominated for the place, although a letter from Mr. Slade, who is out of the city, was read to the council, stating that under no condition would he be a candidate for the position. Slade received four votes and Brown twelve.

H. R. Goetchius was elected trustee of the public schools, over R. A. Carson, president of the board, who was a candidate for reelection. The vote was a tie and Mayor Chappelle cast the deciding vote in favor of Mr. Goetchius.

G. Gunby Jordan was elected to succeed himself as a member of the board of school trustees.

The salaries of the lieutenants of police were increased $5 per month.

The Fourth at Blue Ridge.

Blue Ridge, GGa., July 5.—(Special).—Blue Ridge celebrated the Fourth with a big picnic given under the auspices of the secret orders of the town, embracing the Masons, Knights of Pythias and Odd Fellows.

Hon. Hugh Dorsey, of Atlanta, was the orator of the day and made a splendid address, which was well received by the vast concourse of people who heard him.

THE PASSING THRONG.

"No. 1046 J. west, please."
"Well?"
"Is this 1046 J. west?"
"No. It's 146 west."
"Excuse me, please."
"Central?"
"Hello!"
"Would you kindly give me 1046 west?"
"Is this 1046 J. west?"
"Wrong number. This is 1046 main."
"I beg your pardon."
"Central?"
"Well?"
"Far be it from me to presume, but—"
"You want long distance."
"I do NOT want long distance. I want 1046 J. west."
"Why didn't you say so at first."
"That's just what I did do, although it's so long ago I can hardly remember."
"Hello."
"Is that 1046 J. west?"
"It is not. It's 21. Police station."
"Excuse me, please."
"Central?"
"Well?"
"I mighty near got it that time. You're improving, and I—"
"What number do you want?"
"Really, I don't know. I used to want 1046 J. west. My wife went over there in West End this morning to spend a couple of days. She forgot to take her pocket book and I thought I would send it out to her if she said she wanted it. But, never mind now. As I said, she was only going to stay a couple of days, so she must be home by this time. While I pay for my 'phone service, of course, I hope I haven't inconvenienced you too much."
"Ask 500."
"I don't wan—. What number, please?"
"500?"
"Yes."
"Could you recommend some nice rest cure?"
"Best place in the country. Stickem's Sanitarium for the Sick to Get Stuck."
"Grounds pleasing?"
"Best place in the world. Call 2932 north."
"What?"
"Call 2932 north?"
"Never. Is the rest cure on north or change?"
"Yes, why?"
"Oh, nothing. Lovely place, the north exchange."
"What do you mean?"
"Just a mere pleasantry, that's all."
"Do you want Stickem's place, 2932 north?"
"No, no. Oh, please don't. Really, Mr. Five Hundred, remember that I have a wife and nine small children who are constantly crying for bread. I'll never touch another drop. Honest, I won't. But please don't give me north exchange again. You can see I'm not strong."
"Well, what do you want?"
"Long distance, please."
"Long distance?"
"Yes."
"Please leave a call for Milledgeville. I want to get connected as soon as possible. Yes, the superintendent's office. Thank you so much."

HE DEFENDED BENCH AGAINST CHARGES

President Persons, of Georgia Bar Association, Denounces a Newspaper.

IT MADE CHARGE THAT ROADS OWNED COURTS

Mr. Persons Said Journalist Who Would Thus Besmirch the Reputation of Judges Was Very Harmful—His Remarks Warmly Applauded.

Warm Springs, Ga., July 5.—(Special.)—In the course of his annual address to the Georgia Bar Association this morning, President A. P. Persons, of that body, took occasion to enter a dignified but at the same time a very earnest and vigorous protest, against the ill-advised habit of making grave and slanderous charges against the legislative, executive and judicial branches of the state government, without going into detail or offering any proof to sustain such general and indefinite, but at the same time unjust and misleading accusations.

President Persons' wholesome views along this line, which were delivered with all the earnestness and emphasis that marks real conviction, were received with hearty applause by the members of the Georgia Bar Association, and it was evident that that was the sentiment of all the members of that important and influential organization present.

Discussing respect for the law, Mr. Persons said:

"There is no greater instrumentality in creating a healthy public sentiment than the public press, and one of its highest functions is to enhance respect for law. But this can never be done by general and indiscriminate denunciation of lawmakers and law officers. Not so long ago one of Georgia's greatest daily newspapers, in the course of an editorial, said:

"'The lawmaking bodies of the state have been partially under railroad domination at times; and at times the interpreters of the law have given evidence that they have felt its influence. The legislative, executive and judicial divisions of the state government have been responsive when the railroad pressed the button.'

Very Grave Charges.

"These charges are grave; these charges are serious. If they have any meaning at all, they mean that the lawmaking body and the judiciary of Georgia are guilty of crimes heinous in themselves and odious to the law. They mean that lawmakers are bribed and that justice is bought and sold in Georgia. They mean 'treasons, strategems and spoils' and 'affections dark as Erebus.'

"'The courts have been responsive when the railroad pressed the button.' How pressed the button? How responsive? Have the courts turned or swayed from the true law for any conceivable personal reward or benefit. If yea—who, when, and how?

Charges Are General.

"To expose the individual who is known to have betrayed a public trust is certainly the privilege and undoubtedly the duty of the public press. But these charges are general. They name no time, no place, no circumstance, no offender, and yet they declare in effect that Georgia's executive officers and her legislators are corrupt and her judges venal.

"We are invested with no censorial nor visitorial power or authority. But the judges of our courts are honorary members of this body and that fact might afford us just ground for gentle remonstrance against such sweeping and defamatory allegations. However, our affiliations with these officers of the law are minor considerations. The real and urgent cause for remonstrance is, that respect for law cannot obtain unless there is general confidence in the purity and integrity of the judiciary.

Should Be Specific.

"Law, after all, is what the courts construe it to be, and justice cannot prevail unless justice is administered. Charges of official corruption are easy to make, though false. It is wrong to make them unless known to be true, and when made they should be specific. It is intolerant and unjust to impugn the motives and censure the acts of those who do not think as we think, and do not do as we wish. A fair and patriotic journal should not make such charges as these, unless it knows the offenders, and, knowing the offenders, it should tell us who they are and wherein they have violated the law. It is unjust to the virtuous to refuse to name the vicious, when such momentous accusations are brought.

Newspaper Severely Criticised.

"By 'the liberty of the press' is understood the right to print and publish the truth, from good motives, and for justifiable ends. A prominent journalist, who, thoughtlessly, besmirches the reputation of every judge on the bench, does more wrong and harm to the state than any corporate power or political ring is able to do in the free state of Georgia.

"'The commonwealth perishes if respect for magistrates be taken away.' This association knows neither parties, factions, combinations, cabals, juntos nor rings. But it can and should consider any and everything that affects the law and its supremacy.

"We live under a government of law, and not under a government of men. The people name the officers of the law, and those who have held our elective offices have held them by the consent of the governed."

Proceedings of Association.

The twenty-second annual convention of the Georgia Bar Association was called to order at Warm Springs this morning and will be in session three days. The state bar is prominently represented, but the Atlanta delegation on the opening day was not as large as usual, owing to the fact that a considerable number of members of the Atlanta bar remained at home to attend the funeral of Mrs. John S. Candler, wife of Judge Candler.

Only one session was held today, the afternoon being given over to recreation and social pleasures. The feature of the opening session this morning was the annual address of Hon. A. P. Persons, of Talbotton, the president of the association.

Judge J. C. McReynolds, of Washington, D. C., assistant attorney negeral of the United States, who will deliver the principal address of the convention, arrived yesterday afternoon. His address, which will be delivered tomorrow morning, is anticipated with very keen interest.

Tonight a brilliant reception was tendered the members of the bar association and their friends, Hon. Charles L. Davis, proprietor of the hotel, being the host. A splendid buffet supper was served. The details of this very delightful affair were looked after most carefully and capably by a committee of ladies, of whom Mrs. S. P. Gilbert, of Columbus, was chairman.

Chairman Gilbert's Reportt.

The first feature after the convention was called to order this morning, with the auditorium well filled with lawyers and ladies, the latter guests at the springs, was the making of announcements and the reading of the annual report of the executive committee of the association through Hon. S. Price Gilbert, its chairman. This committee is composed of the president, secretary and treasurer of the association and S. P. Gilbert, of Columbus; T. M. Cunningham, Jr., of Savannah, and T. A. Hammond, of Atlanta. The late Washington Dessau was the original chairman of the committee and Captain Gilbert was chosen chairman to succeed him.

Chairman Gilbert prefaced his remarks by saying that no language of his could properly express the great loss the association had sustained in the death of Mr. Dessau. He confessed his utter inability to discharge the duties of the position of chairman as they would have been discharged by Mr. Dessau.

No Written Papers.

It had been the hope of Mr. Dessau, he said, to inject a feature of novelty into this meeting. For many years the duties of the convention had devolved upon a few, who read the papers and carried on the discussions. It was Mr. Dessau's idea to have the programme made up of general discussions of an impromptu character, thus giving all in the convention hall, and especially the younger members, an opportunity of expressing their views freely and without constraint. The committee concurred with Mr. Dessau in these ideas entirely. Had he lived, his familiarity with the conventions and his long experience would no doubt have enabled him to make the plan a complete success. As it was, the committee felt somewhat doubtful as to the outcome, but trusted that the plan would be successful. Members of the association were urged by Captain Gilbert to join in the discussions at all times. Te requested that they attend all sessions and be on hand promptly.

The Social Features.

Chairman Gilbert announced that the committee had arranged short features in order to give the lawyers full opportunity for the indulgence of social pleasures. He announced that there would be a social gathering at the hall tonight, and stated some of the details.

"It is your entertainment," he said. "We want you and your friends to be present. Any kind of costume will be in order, from complete negligee to full dress; dress as you please, and be suited by your own pleasure and convenience. The committee desires to acknowledge the liberality and cordial cooperation of Charles L. Davis, the proprietor of the hotel. He gave authority to the committee of ladies to provide the refreshments for the entertainment at his expense. He is also entertaining those who will take part in the musical programme, at his own expense."

Champ Clark Couldn't Come.

Chairman Gilbert announced that the committee had invited Hon. Champ Clark, of Missouri, who spent yesterday at Barnesville, Ga., to attend the convention, but that he wired in reply as follows:

"Would be delighted to accept invitation, but previous engagements of imperative character prevent."

Captain Gilbert announced that the membership of the Georgia Bar Association had reached high water mark, being now 405. Eighteen new members have been recently enrolled. While this was gratifying, yet he said he thought the association should have 1,000 members, and suggested that the association take under consideration plans to largely increase the membership.

New Members Received.

The following new members were admitted: John T. Norris, Cartersville; R. C. Norman, Washington; Henry Wiley Johnson, Savannah; Albert M. Deal, Statesboro; Edmund Abraham, Savannah; J. N. Talley, Macon; J. P. Highsmith, Eastman; C. L. Pettigrew, Atlanta; H. H. Swift, Lester C. Slade, William DeL. Worsley, R. E. Dismukes, Columbus; F. S. Harrell, Tifton; Theo. Titus, Roscoe Luke, H. J. McIntyre, W. C. Snodgrass, S. A. Roddenberry, Thomasville; Livingston Kenon, Darien. One or two other new members were received during today's session.

The annual report of the treasurer of the association, Z. D. Harrison, of Atlanta, clerk of the supreme court, was read and adopted.

The President's Address.

The annual address of the president, Hon. A. P. Persons, was then delivered, and was received with profound attention. He was frequently interrupted with applause. The gifted Talbotton lawyer completely charmed his audience, which was thoroughly entertained by his splendid address. Many fine thoughts were brought out in beautiful manner. As a production in English, the address was a gem, and it was delivered with such grace and eloquence that the entire audience was delighted. It not only sparkled at places with humor, but contained many sound and serious thoughts, expressed in such forceful manner as to drive the argument home in the minds of the audience. His earnest remonstrance against making wholesale and slanderous charges against the judiciary of Georgia, without specifications or proof, made a particularly deep impression. Mr. Persons modestly said in the beginning that he would bring nothing new or profound before the convention, and that his only excuse for his appearance on that occasion was respect for the law (the custom which made his address by the president a feature of the programme), but as a matter of fact the address was along original lines in several important respects. Speaking of the convention just assembled, he said:

"The objects of the Georgia Bar Association are high and noble. We are not here to promote selfish ends or to foster personal ambitions. We do not come in order that financial benefit may result. We are here to advance the science of jurisprudence and promote the administration of the law through Georgia."

Memorial Committee Reports.

The committee on memorials, of which J. H. Merrill, of Thomasville, is chairman, then made its report. The full report was devoted to the life and career of the late Washing Dessau, of Macon, whom Chairman Merrill referred to as "the knightliest member of the Georgia Bar Association." He spoke in the most beautiful terms of Mr. Dessau's stainless record in his profession and referred to his faithful and unselsh work to promote the interests of the Georgia Bar Association, remarking: "He was the most useful, the most valuable member of our association."

Mr. Merrill said that he wished to say a few words of a personal nature regarding Mr. Dessau. At the meeting of the bar association last summer, after he had concluded reading a memorial regarding the life and services of the late Judge Lumpkin, Mr. Dessau turned to him and told him that when he died he wished him to prepare the memorial to be read before the bar association. It impressed Mr. Merrill as a sad and peculiar coincidence.

"I had learned to love him, through long and pleasant association, as one of the most companionable of men," he said. "Under his picture I have written these words: 'Able lawyer, charming gentleman, my delightful friend.'"

Appropriate memorials regarding the late Cicero Arnold Turner, of Macon, and the late Judge W. B. Butt, of Columbus, were read by Chairman Merrill.

As to Newspaper Notoriety.

In the absence of W. G. Charlton, of Savannah, chairman of the committee on legal ethics, Charlton E. Battle, another member of that committee, read the chairman's report. The chairman used plain language, and among others, the declaration was made that "we live in an age of crudest dishonesty." He devoted some attention to what he considered the craving of many lawyers for newspaper notoriety. He said that lawyers often improperly rush into print with interviews regarding impending litigation—interviews which could not, with propriety, have been given. Of course, there are situations when it is necessary for a lawyer to write a signed card to a newspaper to correct an error, but it is the needless "interviews" and newspaper notoriety to which he objected so strongly as being unprofessional.

"If we cannot prosper without notoriety," he said, "it is our moral obligation to accept poverty."

The Southern Bell Telephone Company, through Hunt Chipley, general counsel, tendered the free use of its long-distance lines to members of the association during the convention, and, upon motion of Peter W. Meldrim, the company was thanked for its courtesy.

Mr. Merrill moved that a committee of five be appointed to nominate officers for the association, to report Friday morning. Judge Sweat amended this by making it a committee of eleven, one from each congressional district, but afterwards withdrew the amendment.

Will Abandon Custom.

T. M. Cunningham, Jr., of Savannah, read a resolution the substance of which was that the association abandon its custom of always electing its first vice president the president of the body. He thought that it was a bad custom. If the custom was abandoned, he said that should a vice president be elected president he would feel more gratified at being the free choice of the association, and not elected through mere custom.

The resolution was adopted.

Adjournment was then taken until tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

A Delightful Reception.

The reception tonight in the auditorium was a very pleasant affair. It began about 9 o'clock and lasted until midnight. At its close a buffet supper was served.

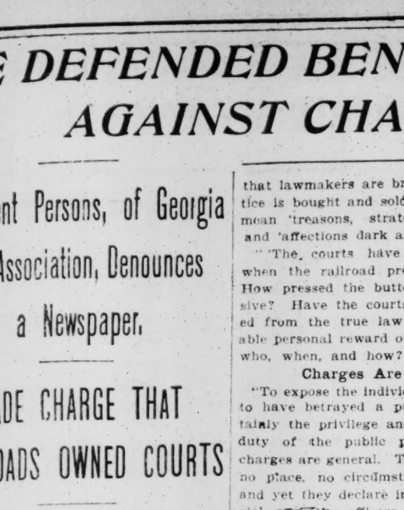

A charming feature was the singing of several musical selections in most pleasing manner by Miss Eloise Mooty, Miss Emmie Burrus, Mr. George Burrus and Mr. Alvan Howard, of Columbus, and Miss Bloodworth, of Forsyth. Miss Celeste Waddell, of Columbus, played the accompaniment.

Nominating Committee.

President Persons appointed the nominating committee this afternoon. They report Friday morning, nominating officers for the association. The members of the committee are J. H. Merrill, of Thomasville, chairman; Judge J. L. Sweat, of Waycross; George Owens, of Savannah; R. C. Alston, of Atlanta, and Charles H. Hall, Jr., of Macon.

Among those here for the convention are: S. M. Dixon, Columbus; A. Mitchell, United States army; Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Cunningham, Savannah; Miss C. L. Woodbridge, Savannan; J. K. Clarke, Jr., Savannah; H. M. Patty, Savannah; Miss Patty, Savannah; Orville A. Park, Macon; Mrs. T. W. Loyless, Augusta; Miss Margaret Loyless, Augusta; T. M. Kimball, Molena; D. B. WILL DISCUSS FREIGHT RATES

Representatives of Cities and Towns Meet at Macon.

There Will Be Two Sessions Held in Morning and Afternoon—Action of Council in Disposing of Back Tax Claims Causes Discussion.

Constitution Bureau, 467 Second Street, Macon, Ga., July 5.—(Special.)—All arrangements have been made for the meeting of the representatives of the Georgia cities and towns here tomorrow at which time freight rates on articles of merchandise and manufactured goods will be discussed by visitors from at least ten centers outside of Macon. Freight discrimination will be the principal matter investigated, and those coming have been assigned to various topics for reports.

The convention of representatives promises to be one of the most important held in Georgia in several years. It is not to be a session at which a pitched battle will occur with the railroads and there is nothing now which indicates bitter antagonism, but those who will be there tomorrow expect to become informed as to the exact condition of affairs as regards discrimination in the state.

Two sessions will be held, one in the morning to accommodate those who will be forced to leave the city on the afternoon trains, and another in the afternoon, to be attended by those who desire to spend considerable time in their deliberations. Macon and Atlanta will be the chief cities concerned in the meeting, but there will be many other parties here to take care of the interests of their own towns.

MISS GENEVIVE MAY

CATARRH OF STOMACH CURRED BY PE-RU-NA.

Miss Genevive May, 1317 S. Meridian Street, Indianapolis, Ind., Member Second High School Alumni Association, writes:

"Peruna is the finest regulator of a disorded stomach I have ever found, it certainly deserves high praise. for it is skillfully prepared."

"I was in a terrible condition from a neglected case of catarrh of the stomach. My food had long ceased to be of any good and only distressed me after eating. I was nauseated, had heartburn and headaches, and felt run down completely. But in two weeks after I took Peruna I was a changed person. A few bottles of the medicine made a great change and in three months my stomach was cleared of catarrh and my entire system in a better condition."

CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR CAMPAIGNING IN JAIL

CARROLLTON, GA., July 5.—(Special.)—Mr. Nolan, a man whom it will be remembered announced himself for governor some time ago, from near Villa Rica, this county, and who claimed that he represented 99 per cent of the voters of the state, is spending the summer in the Carrollton jail, charged with the offense of poisoning his wife.

He and his wife separated and soon after the separation, it is said, they met and in the course of a talk between the two Mr. Nolan gave her a drink of water in a glass. She at once claimed that the water was poisoned, and she died in about a week's time, and her statement that the water was poisoned caused Mr. Nolan's arrest and detention in the Carrollton jail.

"SHE AND THE OLD 'OMAN'S ALL I GOT IN THE WORLD"

A MULE named "Maud" fell into a hole fifteen feet deep at the corner of Marietta street and Ponders avenue early last night.

It took Veterinary Carnes and a volunteer relief corps more than an hour to get the unfortunate beast back to the surface by filling up the hole. But when Maud finally stepped out upon the pavement the affectionate reunion of herself and her master outdid Sancho Panza and his donkey and touched the hearts of all the spectators.

E. L. Smith is the fond owner of Maud. He and Mrs. Smith and the mule reside six miles out on the Howell Mill road, where Mr. Smith and Maud cultivate a small farm. Yesterday they took a recess from agricultural effort and came into Atlanta. Shortly after dark they started home.

At the corner of Marietta street and Ponders avenue employees of the water works had dug a deep hole, which ran under the car tracks. Maud and her driver approached this excavation, all unconscious of danger, although ominous red lights burned at its edge.

Suddenly something happened. Mr. Smith saw the harness break like so many strings as Maud disappeared, apparently swallowed into the earth. He alighted from his wagon and discovered that a great cavity yawned where he had last seen Maud.

He peered long and seachingly into this hole, feeling sure that Maud had tumbled into it. But she was nowhere to be seen. The fact was that Maud had made her way, unharmed, to a point beneath the car tracks where she was invisible from above.

Finally passersby took notice of the plight in which Mr. Smith found himself and someone sent word to Dr. Carnes of the mishap. That official hurried to the scene at once and soon discovered that the only practical method of bringing Maud to her former level was filling the hole so that she might rise with the ascending dirt. Some shovels were procured and all hands set to work at the task of bringing Maud out of the hole. It took over an hour to do this, but finally the devoted beast stepped out upon the pavement.

Her owner grasped the halter that vet clung to her head and led her hurriedly beneath the arc light which shone a few yards off. There it was seen that she had come forth from her danger unscathed. Mr. Smith threw his arms about the neck of Maud and shouted in his glee.

"She and the old 'oman 's all I got," he said feelingly to Dr. Carnes and then, when the crowd had helped him patch his harness and rehitch Maud to her wagon, he said "Giddap" and started again for home, finishing his trip that time without further accident.

STATE GOSSIP CAUGHT IN CAPITOL CORRIDORS

THREE bills were introduced in the house of representatives yesterday by Messrs. Slaton, Blackburn and Bell, of Fulton, the object of which is to relieve the congestion in the courts of Fulton county. One of these bills provides for six terms each year of Fulton superior court, instead of four, as at present, thus providing for a new term every two months. Another of these bills proposes to create a new judicial circuit composed only of DeKalb county, to be known as the DeKalb circuit. This will relieve the judge of the Stone Mountain circuit of the work in DeKalk county, and give him more time in Fulton. Another measure provides for a constitutional amendment under which the legislature may create additional judges of the superior courts.

Coast Line To Arbitrate.

Comptroller General Wright received notice yesterday from Local Counsel F. G. duBignon, of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company, to the effect that the railroad company would not assent to his assessment of its franchise and other property, but would resort to arbitration for the purpose of determining its taxable value. The comptroller general was also notified that the railroad company would name its arbitrator within the next few days. One of the members of the railroad commission will be appointed to represent the state. The comptroller general increased the valuations of the Coast Line's main track, its real estate in Savannah and its franchise, by something over $2,000,000. The company's total returns were $10,631,912 and these were increased by the comptroller general in his assessment to a total of $12,659,502. Arrangements for the arbitration will be made within the next few days.

To Hold Encampments.

Orders were issued yesterday from the office of Adjutant General S. W. Harris providing for the encampment of one battalion of the Third regiment, infantry, comprising the troops of this regiment located in Augusta, to be held at Tybee island from July 15 to 20, inclusive.

It was also announced that the Fifth regiment would hold its encampment at some point in Georgia to be selected later, from July 15 to 23, inclusive.

Georgia's State Banks.

State Treasurer Park has begun to receive the quarterly reports from the state banks of Georgia for which the call was issued on July 1. These reports are all required to be in the hands of the state treasurer within thirty days from the expiration of the quarter. There are now 284 state banks in Georgia, an increase of 144 since Treasurer Park came into office, four years ago.

Pickens' Good Showing.

The first tax digest of the year was received yesterday at the office of Comptroller General W. A. Wright. This digest comes from Receiver G. T. Holt, of Pickens county, and shows a healthy increase in the taxable property in that county. The total taxable property in Pickens this year is $884,367, as against $830,477 in 1904, showing an increase for 1905 or $53,890.

CASTLE HAS BEEN LOCATED.

Bigamist Who Escaped from Camp at Louisville.

Savannah, Ga., July 5.—(Special.)—Chief Deputy Sheriff Sweeny, of Savannah, has located at Syracuse, N. Y., Martin Castle, a bigamist sent up from Chatham county some months ago, and who escaped from the prison camp at Louisville, Ga., two days after he was committed. The young woman here whom Castle had made his second wife as soon as she learned of Castle's escape appealed to Chief Sweeny, begging him to effect the recapture of the man, as she stood in dread of him as long as he might be at liberty.

Chief Sweeny complied, and at his own expense started to tracing the man, finally locating him in Syracuse, where Castle was first arrested. It is probable that Chief Sweeny, who was so active in locating the escaped bigamist, will be sent for him. Castle has been arrested by the Syracuse authorities at the instance of Chief Sweeny.

The Seaboard Air Line Railway is now operating Pullman Buffet Parlor Cars on trains No. 38 and No. 41 between Atlanta and Birmingham, leaving Atlanta 6:30 a. m.; returning, leave Birmingham at 4:10 p. m.

MISSED HIS MAN BUT HIT WOMAN

Then Harris Turned Pistol on Himself, Dying Instantly.

Rockdale County Man Tries To Kill Negro Who Owed Him Money. Misses Him, but Negro Woman Was Wounded. Harris Suicides.

Conyers, Ga., July 5.—(Special.)—About a mile south of this place, yesterday evening, Stewart Harris, a white man, fired five bullets from his pistol at a negro, named Burrell Stevens, without effect. The balls all missed the negro man, but one of them severely wounded a negro woman, who happened to be standing close by.

When Harris saw the woman fall and heard her wild cries, he thought, no doubt, that he had killed her accidentally, and at once turned the pistol and shot himself through the heart. He expired immediately. His aged mother had come out and caught him by the shoulder as he fired the fatal shot and fell to the ground with her son. She had to be carried into the house. She is in a precarious condition. The negro woman will live. The negro man owed Harris some money and refused to pay it.

THEATERS.

The Casino.

"The Strange Adventures of Miss Brown," the farce comedy on at the Ponce de Leon casino, has continued to attract a large gathering of theater-goers. There will be matinee and evening presentations today. During the action of the play there are three or four specialties that please, especially the contribution of Miss Henning, who gives promise of becoming a light in musical comedy some day.

Next week at the Casino there will be a vaudeville musical comedy, and it is believed the bill will serve as a magnet. The fact that the organization of thirty-three people is made up of artists of almost a national reputation is quite an indorsement of the declaration that the offering will equal the best of the Casino season.

John L. Kearney, who for several seasons has been one of the principal comedians of the Shuburt forces, playing the principal role in "The Chinese Honeymoon," will be the leading fun maker; and the musical department is in the hands of Herbert Delila, the author of "Absence Makes the Heart Grow Fonder," the score of "The Beauty and the Beast," and a long list of other successes. Nettie Black, who was a principal in the original Hoyt forces; Osborn Clemson, an eccentric comedian, late of the Hopper forces; Helen Barret, Bert Merket and other well known artists, including Amy Lee, the comedienne, will be prominent in the presentation of "The Typewriter Girl," a new musical vaudeville affair that has won favor in the east.

The sale of seats will start on Friday.

Hartwell Bank.

Hartwell, Ga., July 4.—(Special.)—The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Hartwell bank was held here Tuesday and the old officers of that institution were reelected. They are: President, E. B. Benson; vice president, Jas. W. Williams; cashier, S. W. Peek; attorneys, A. G. and Julian McCurry; directors: E. B. Benson, S. W. Peek, J. W. Williams, D. C. Alford, J. D. Matheson, P. S. McMullan.

FROM THE EDITOR.

He Forgot That He Had a Stomach

Talking of food, there is probably no professional man subjected to a greater, more wearing mental strain than the responsible editor of a modern newspaper.

To keep his mental faculties constantly in good working order, the editor must keep his physical powers up to the highest rate of efficiency. Nothing will so quickly upset the whole system as badly selected food and a disordered stomach. It therefore follows that he should have right food, which can be readily assimilated, and which furnishes true brain nourishment.

"My personal experience in the use of Grape Nuts and Postum Food Coffee," writes a Philadelphia editor, "so exactly agrees with your advertised claim as to their merits that any further exposition in that direction would seem to be superfluous. They have benefited me so much, however, during the five years that I have used them, that I do not feel justified in withholding my testimony.

"General 'high living' with all that the expression implies as to a generous table, brought about indigestion, in my case, with restlessness at night, and lassitude in the morning, acompanied by various pains and distressing sensations during working hours. The doctor diagnosed the condition as 'catarrh of the stomach,' and prescribed various medicines, which did me no good. I finally 'threw physics to the dogs,' gave up tea and coffee and heavy meat dishes, and adopted Grape-Nuts and Postum Food Coffee as the chief articles of my diet.

"I can conscientiously say, and I wish to say it with all the emphasis possible to the English language, that they have benefited me as medicines never did, and more than any other food that ever came on my table. My experience is that the Grape-Nuts food has steadied and strengthened both brain and nerves to a most positive degree. How it does it, I cannot say, but I know that after breakfasting on Grape-Nuts food one actually forgets he has a stomach, let alone 'stomach trouble.' It is, in my opinion, the most beneficial as well as the most economical food on the market, and has absolutely no rival." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

BUSINESS MEN TO MAKE TRIP

Trade Extension Trip Is Proposed to the Chamber of Commerce.

"A trade extension trip" of a party of leading business men of Atlanta on a chartered train to cover the entire Atlanta territory will be proposed to the chamber of commerce at the regular monthly meeting of that body, called for next Tuesday evening, in the Kimball house ball room.

This suggestion came from President R. F. Maddox, of the chamber of commerce, at the regular monthly meeting of the board of directors, held yesterday afternoon, in the offices of the organization. A number of important matters were transacted at this meeting.

The suggestion of President Maddox is that the chamber of commerce charter a special train, and that a party of prominent business men travel over all Atlanta's tributary territory, stopping at every town of any importance for the purpose of meeting the merchants and people of that town. The trip, which will consume about a week, would not be for the purpose of selling goods, but of meeting this city's customers face to face.

President Maddox and others will advocate this idea at the meeting of the organization to be held on Tuesday evening.

At the meeting of directors yesterday, President Maddox and Secretary Cooper were appointed to represent the chamber at the meeting called by the Macon chamber of commerce to discuss the formation of a state board of trade, created by the affiliation of local chambers of commerce and similar organization.

Sam D. Jones, Traffic Manager Moore, Louis Gholstin, R. S. Wessels, and probably others, will represent the Atlanta freight bureau at the same meeting, which has been called to discuss the freight rate situation, as well as the formation of the state board of trade.

MANY LICENSES GRANTED.

Some 1,500 Licenses Written Yesterday in Ofice of City Clerk.

Hundreds of licenses were written by City Clerk Campbell and eight assistants yesterday, but when the closing hour arrived there were still hundreds waiting to pay fees and receive licenses. Those who were unable to secure attention before the closing hour will be accommodated today.

All told there were some 1500 licenses written yesterday, which with those previously written, makes a total of about 3200. The fees paid into the city clerk's office during yesterday will amount to just $17,500.

Clerk Campbell's office was packed and jammed all day long. He was busy himself writing out licenses. All the clerical force of the office was similarly engaged, as were License Inspector Paul Hubbard and five extra assistants. This made nine men in all writing licenses, but they were unable to attend to all who appeared and tendered fees.

All city licenses expire on July 6 of each year. Some licenses may, under the terms of the law, be written for one quarter, others for six months and others may not be written for a term less than twelve months. Of all sorts of business licenses there were about 4500 in force during the last quarter and about the same number will be issued for this qparter. As 3200 have already been issued, some 1300 will have to be issued today.

Mother Tried for Killing Son.

Richmond, Va., July 5.—The defense in the case of Mrs. Shepard K. Smith, charged with beating her 7-year-old son, Ralph, to death, began today in the Manchester court and it is thought the case may close tomorrow. Evidence is being introduced to offset the testimony offered by the prosecution to show alleged cruelty of the mother to her child.

Shot His Wife.

Richmond, Va., July 5.—Joseph W. Lebauer, an employee of a local barrel works, shot his wife five times and then tried to end his own life with a bullet here this afternoon. Lebauer shot himself in the abdomen. It is doubtful whether he will live.

The woman was shot through the right shoulder, the upper lip and the neck. She may recover. Jealousy is given as the cause of the shooting.

JULY THE FOURTH SPECIALTIES AT "JEDGE BRILES" MATINEE

"JEDGE BRILES" held his Fourth of July matinee yesterday, that is, he had before him all the people who had played a part in the police vaudeville the day before. There were Fourth of July drunks, Fourth of July fights, Fourth of July rows, Fourth of July swipes and Fourth of July Darktown "misunderstandings."

From the Fourth of July programme at the matinee yesterday, the following specialties will give a good indication of "Jedge Briles'" extra performance on account of too much patriotism:

A Fourth of July Ride.

Alline Prudens, who of prudence had none, a belle of Darktown who has not to either work nor toil, took a ride on the Marietta street car line on the Fourth of July. She found the car crowded and when no white man arose to give her a seat she talked "sassy." Later three white men got off and she and another negro woman took all three seats, on one of the side seat cars. When an aged and infirm white man got aboard and asked them to make room for him, Alline said:

"I don't give a d—m if you never sit down."

Her conduct was reported to an officer by indignant citizens.

"Oh, I did say something of the kind," stated Alline to the recorder, "but the old white man used the word damn first."

"Well, may be you didn't care a——," remarked the recorder, "but you will care about $10.75 worth before you get back home. That is the price of your Fourth of July trolley car ride."

A Fourth of July Murder.

Crooked alley, in Darktown, was convulsed on the Fourth by a battle between Jim Mitchell, of 73 Pratt street, and Georgia Word, of Crooked alley. No extra fireworks were needed.

"Hit wus er murder," hoarsely whispered Jim to Jedge Briles. "She did de killin' an' dat caused de rucas."

"A murder," exclaimed the recorder, "who was murdered?"

"Georgia kilt mer leetle kitten," replied Jim. "I sho lubbed dat cat, Jeuge Briles, an' when she kilt hit us got mixed up in a libely rucas on de Forf ob July."

"Ef I did kill yer kitten," said Georgia, "I rickon I had er rite ter do hit when I gibbed yer de cat merse'f."

Jim proved that Georgia not only killed the kitten, but that she started the fight. She was fined $10.75.

"Let this Fourth of July catastrophe be a warning to you," said the recorder to Georgia. "Don't kill any more cats, especially on the Fourth of July, for I have got you on my cat-alogue."

A Fourth of July Fight.

Martha Cox, of No. 3 Rasberry alley, one of the fashionable thoroughfares in Darktown, came to the front with a score or more of witnesses in her trail.

"What's Martha done?" asked the recorder, and the witnesses all cried out:

"Nuttin dat we knows ob."

"What have you done, Martha?" the recorder asked the prisoner at the bar, and she replied:

"Nuttin dat I knows ob."

"Look here," exclaimed Judge Broyles, "what was this case made about?"

"Er fite," cried the witnesses in chorus.

"That sounds more like it," stated the recorder. "Who did the fighting?"

"Martha Cox's dog and Emma Wilson's dog," said the score or more of witnesses.

Everybody laughed except the recorder.

"This court is not here to try dog fights," he said.

"Heh dawg kilt my dawg," stated Emma Wilson. "Her dawg is a bull dawg an' my dawg wus er fice."

"I don't care how many dogs Martha Cox's dog killed," the recorder said. "I have a great mind to fine this whole push."

"The arresting officer, who was tardy, came up at that moment and explained that Martha had been arrested for allowing a vicious dog to run at large.

"That sounds more like business," commented the recorder. "I'll fine Martha $3.75 for letting her bull dog have too much Fourth of July liberty."

A Fourth of Jully Accident.

Dan Wright, a darkey from Woggle Bottoms, in Alabama, came to Atlanta on a Fourth of July excursion and was jugged in the calaboose before he had been in town half an hour.

Wright had been told by his friends in Woggle Bottoms to be sure to take his liquor along with him, and he took their advice. He liquored up on the train and by the time he reached town he was mellow.

In taking in the town he ran into two negro women in a Decatur street lunch house and he knocked one of them down. She said he did it on purpose and nearly killed her.

"Dat nigger whut sez he cums from Woggle Bottoms," stated the yictim in court, "sho jarred me, Jedge Briles. He knocked me down same ez ef I wus ten pin, an' he nebber 'polergized er nuttin."

"Hit wus er exerdint," exclaimed the man from Woggle Bottoms. "I wus er leetle bit wobbly in mer laigs an' I runned er ginst dis cullud lady axerdintly."

"The Fourth of July accident will cost the Woggle Bottomite $3.75," announced the recorder. "Don't come here with any more Woggle liquor, Wright, or you'll be wrong."

TAX BOOKS OPEN TILL 15TH.

Returns Will Be Received Until That Date by Order of Board.

The Fulton county board of commissioners yesterday morning extended time for making tax returns to Hon. Thomas M Armstead, county tax receiver, until July 15 inst.

Tax Receiver Armstead sent a communication to the board showing that the returns to date were something like $100,000 short of the returns for years preceding based upon the valuation of the property. He offered no explanation for the dereliction of property owners in making the returns, but expressed his conviction that it was due to an oversight on their part, more than to any other thing, basing the statement upon the character of presumed delinquents. The tax receiver's statement was fully satisfactory and Commissioner Rosser presented a resolution extending the time to July 15.

The tax receiver's books close by law on the last day of June and unless some remedey indicated by law is applied those who fail to give in their property are double taxed.

A long line of routine work, auditing bills, receiving reports and issuing warrants apart from granting a leave of absence of one week to each member of the county police force, the time of that leave of absence to be fixed by the chief of the department, finished the work of the session.

Invitation to Barbecue.

Macon, Ga., July 5.—(Special.)—The Bibb Manufacturing Company, Macon's largest brick works, has issued invitations to the mayor and council, the county commissioners and other friends of the concern to attend an old style Georgia barbecue, to be given next Saturday at noon at the brick yards in South Macon. Many will attend.

CROPS ARE IN GOOD SHAPE.

Weekly Bulletins Issued by J. B. Marbury Gives Review of Georgia Crops.

According to the climate and crop bulletin issued by Section Director J. B Marbury, for the week ending July 5, the crops in Georgia are in good shape. The melon crop has been slightly injured by excessive rains, but the shipping of the crop is continuing satisfactorily.

Cotton is rather small for the season, but is growing rapidly and fruiting well. Following is a general review of the situation:

"With the exception of a few widely scattered localities where the need of moisture is still felt, good rains were general over the state the past week; heavy falls occurred in some sections, especially over the northern half, doing considerable injury by washing land, injuring growing crops and delaying farm work. Cotton continues rather small for the season, but is growing rapidly and fruiting well; fields are grassy in some districts, slight injury is being done in a few localities by blight, lice and shedding. Early corn continues variable, as a result of injury by dry weather in some sections; late corn is very promising except on some low lands where it is being damaged by flooding. Melons are plentiful, but have suffered some by reason of too much rain; the shipping of the crop continues satisfactorily. Pea sowing still progresses, an unusually large acreage being given to this product. Gardens, cans, potatoes, groundpeas are all doing well. Pastures are generally fie, and stock is in excellent condition."

Petition in Bankruptcy.

Macon, Ga., July 5.—(Special.)—A. B. Jones, a farmer and saw mill man of Dublin, Ga., filed a petition in voluntary bnakruptcy in the federal court here today. The schedules show liabilities amounting to $1,982.71 and practically no assets.

LOCAL TAXATION SCHEME FOR PUBLIC EDUCATION

HON. E. H. McMICHAEL, of Marion, introduced in the house yesterday a measure of great importance throughout the state, in that it provides the machinery through which any city, town, county or school district in the state may elect to levy a local tax for school purposes.

Mr. McMichael, as a member of the last state senate, was the author of the bill providing for a constitutional amendment making possible local taxation for schools. This constitutional amendment was ratified by the people at the last election.

Now the passage of some measure providing the machinery under which any school district may go about getting local taxation adopted, is necessary to make this constitutional provision operative. Mr. McMichael has introduced this bill, and when it becomes a law it will not be necessary to pass any local measures looking to this end.

Mr. McMichael's bill provides that the county board of education of each county shall lay off the county into school districts, the lines of which shall be clearly and positively defined by boundaries such as creeks, public roads, land lot lines, district lines, or county lines. The school district thus marked out shall contain an area of not less than 9 square miles and, where practicable, shall be so shaped as to have the school buildings as near the center of the district as possible.

The board of education may have the right to establish districts with areas less than 9 square miles where there are natural causes or local conditions that make it necessary to do so.

In counties having incorporated towns now levying a local tax for educational purposes, and operating a public school system under their town charter or special act of the legislature, the county board of education, with the consent of the municipal authorities, may create a school district larger than the incorporated limits of the town by adding adjacent territory not already included in the incorporated limits, and the district thus marked out shall become a school district upon vote of the people as hereinafter provided.

Section 2 provides that whenever the citizens of any county wish to supplement the public school fund received from the state by levying a tax upon the property of the county, it shall be the duty of the ordinary or board of county commissioners (as the case may be) to order an election not earlier than twenty days nor later than sixty days after receiving a petition from one-fourth of the qualified voters of the county; and notice of the same shall be published in at least two issues of the county newspapers in which the legal advertisements for the county is published. Said election shall be held as ordinary local elections are held. Those favoring the levying of the local tax shall vote "For local tax for public schools," those opposed shall vote "Against local tax for public schools." If two-thirds of all the votes cast in such election are in favor of local tax, then the proper county authorities shall declare the election carried for local taxation for public schools, otherwise the election is lost. No person shall be allowed to vote in said election except those regularly qualified to vote in state or county elections. If the election is carried for local taxation, the ordinary or board of county commissions (as the case may be) shall levy a local tax as recommended by the county board of education upon all the property of the county not to exceed three-quarters of one per cent, and the same shall be collected by the county tax collector and paid by him to the county board of education.

The county tax collector shall keep the funds thus collected separate and district from all county and state funds.

In section 3 it is provided that whenever the citizens of any school district in a county not levying a local tax for educational purposes wish to supplement the funds received from the state public school fund by levying a local tax for educational purposes, they shall present a petition from one-fourth of the qualified voters of the district to the ordinary or board of county commissioners (as the case may be) who shall order the election not earlier than twenty days nor later than sixty days after the petition is received; provided that notice of the same shall be posted in at least three conspicuous places in the district ten days prior to the election. The election shall be held at the time and place prescribed by the proper county authorities, and under rules governing ordinary local elections. Those favoring local taxation for public schools shall vote "For Local Taxation for Public Schools;" those opposed shall vote "Against Local Taxation for Public Schools." No person shall vote in said election except regularly qualified voters residing in the district six months prior to the election. At the same time and place in the same election, there shall be elected a board of trustees for said district, composed of three intelligent citizens of good moral character who are known to be earnest supporters of public education, and they shall serve one for three years, one for two years and one for one year, as the county board of education may determine. The notice of their election shall be filed by the election managers with the county school commissioner, who shall submit the same to the county board of education for their approval. After the said local board of trustees has been approved and properly commissioned by the county board of education they shall meet immediately and organize by electing one of their number president and one secretary and treasurer. If the county board of education should consider any member or members thus elected unqualified for the work they may refuse to confirm the election of such a member or members and ask the people of the district in mass meeting or otherwise to nominate others, and they must be approved by the county board of education before they can serve as trustees of the district.

HON. E. H. McMICHAEL, of Marion County, Whose Bill to Provide for the Levying and Collection of Local Tax by Counties for Educational Purposes Has Been Presented to the House.

At the expiration of the term of office of the members thus elected the citizens of the district shall meet at a time and place and in a manner prescribed by the county board of education and elect their successors who must be approved by the county board of education as hereinbefore provided, and the election shall hold for a term of three years. If any member should refuse to act or should be guilty of any conduct unbecoming the dignity of a school trustee, the county board of education shall have the right upon a written complaint of a majority of the voters of the district to remove said member and have his successor elected as hereinbefore provided.

Section 4 provides that said board of trustees shall make all rules and regulations to govern the schools of the district; to build, improve and equip school houses under the approval of the county board of education. They shall have the right to fix the rate of tuition for non-resident pupils. They shall receive from the county board of educatioqn the share of the public school funds apportioned to the district by the county board of education. They shall determine the amount necessary to be raised by local tax on all the property of the district and shall proceed to collect it in the following manner; the secretary of the board of trustees with the aid of the county school commissioner shall ascertain from the tax digest of the county the tax returned on all the property in said school district, and by the 10th day of September in each year shall levy such a rate on the property thus found that will raise the total amount to be collected; provided that said rate shall not exceed three-quarters of 1 per cent. The local board of trustees shall have the right to collect the tax semi-annually or annually, as they deem best, through the secretary and treasurer of the board of trustees, who shall give bond to the trustees in an amount not less than that to be collected by the district. If payment of the local tax on any property of the district is not paid by the 20th day of December then the secretary and treasurer of the local board of trustees shall have the authority to issue a tax fi. fa. against such property and proceed to collect the same just as the county tax collector collects delinquent state and county taxes.

Section 5 provides that the board of trustees may have the right to pay to the secretary and treasurer a commission on the amount of local tax collected not to exceed 3 per cent, but there shall be no commission allowed in the amount received from the state. They shall furnish quarterly to the county board of education a statement showing all receipts, disbursements and cash on hand. They shall also furnish statement showing school population, enrollment, average attendance, course of study and any other data the county board of education may require whenever called upon to do so.

Section 6 provides that while it is the purpose and spirit of this act to encourage individual action and local self-help upon the part of the school districts, it is expressly understood that the general school laws of the state as administered by the county board of education shall be obeyed.

SHONTS PLACED UNDER ARREST

President of Canal Commission Was Driving Auto Too Fast.

New York, July 5.—L. P. Shonts, of Chicago, president of the Panama canal commission, has been arrested at Stamford, Conn., for violation of the automobile speed law. He had a party of women with him and is said to have made an eighth of a mile in 22 seconds. He put up a bond to secure his appearance in court. He was on the way to his summer home at Greenwich at the time.

JUROR'S CHILD WAS VERY ILL

And a Mistrial Was Declared in Case.

Newbern, N. C., July 5.—On account of the death of the child of a juror a mistrial was declared today in the case of Thomas D. Dewey, alleged wrecker of the Merchants' and Farmers' bank, at Newbern, after all evidence for the state had been introduced.

The work of selecting a jury required but forty-five minutes this morning and the taking of testimony began at once. D. W. Roberts, bookkeeper for the bank, identified the handwriting of various entries in the books as that of Dewey and showed that Dewey's defalcations amounted to $110,000. Somewhat of a sensation was sprung by the state in introducing a letter said to have been written to W. B. Blades, of Newbern, by Dewey, on December 4, 1904, in which he asked that all offers of rewards be rescinded and saying that on promise of immunity from prosecution he would return and pay back dollar for dollar.

DR. M'GLAUFLIN TALKS OF SOUTH AND THE NEGRO

REV. W. H. McGLAUFLIN, former pastor of the Universalist church of this city, who is now located at Minneapolis as northwestern superintendent of Universalist churches, is making a splendid impression in his new field. Recently in a talk before the members of one of his churches Dr. McGlauflin touched on the race problem in the south. He is quoted by The Standard, of Albert Lea, Minn., in part as follows:

"Going from Maine to the south, as I did, I was naturally biased in favor of the negroes. But now, as I have had opportunity to study the question at close range and to analyze it, I may say that in the opinion of many, that the great mistake made immediately following the rebellion was conferring immediate enfranchisement upon the negroes regardless of capability to feel or discharge its grave responsibilities. I heard it said, while I was in the south, that 95 per cent of the white people could get along amicably with 95 per cent of the negroes. That is to say that 5 per cent of each is responsible for the outrages which have marred the reputation of the people of that section of the country. And, however much we of the north may deprecate the atrocities frequently committed down there, I am frank to say that perpetration of similar outrages upon women ignite into flames the indignation of the people of the north. But ordinarily, one of the most annoying features of life in the south is the petty pilferings of the negro servant. When one sets down his umbrella, hangs up his coat or puts away his gold pen or cuff buttons down there he has no assurance whatever that he will ever see them again. Perhaps this is inherited from the time, a generation ago, when, being deprived of the fruits of his toil, the negro felt impelled to steal as the only method by which he could get that which belonged to him.'

THIS NEW COUNTY SCHEME WAS NIPPED IN THE BUD

A WELL-KNOWN Georgia traveling man who makes Atlanta his headquarters worked up a new county scheme in great shape yesterday and in a comparatively short time had succeeded in securing several votes for it.

Being on his vacation he was at a loss for something to do. Meeting a friend on the street, an Atlanta contractor, he bewailed his condition of almost enforced idleness.

"George," he said, "I am here with two weeks on my hands and I want to enjoy it, but for the life of me I can't find a thing to do."

"Let's walk down to the Kimball and see what's going on," suggested the contractor.

The first thing that struck their eye in the lobby was the banners and signs advertising new county headquarters. There was Ben Hill county, Jeff Davis county, Stephens county, Dixie county, Grady county and any number of others, all with their banners floating to the breeze.

"I'll tell you, George," said the traveling man with a eureka look upon his face, "let's get up a new county. Where can we get a map?"

The Georgia map was soon found and a comparatively brief study of it brought satisfaction.

"We can make a new county out of that little neck of land way down there in south Georgia belonging to Charlton county," said the traveling man, indicating the little strip of Charlton that projects into Florida, "and I don't believe anybody will oppose it."

"What'll we call it?" asked the contractor.

"Why, Callaway county, of course," was the reply, "in honor of our old friend, Ed Callaway."

That settled it and the plans were laid.

A number of legislators were approached on the subject. They were led to believe that the promoters of the new county were backed by wealthy men who had a hand in founding the town of St. George, down in that little strip, which it was proposed to make the county seat.

Several members of the house who are fighting strenuously against proposed counties which would take slices off their own, readily assented to support the scheme, no doubt in the hope that it would help defeat the plans of other new county delegations.

In a little while the promoters of Callaway county had half a dozen votes pledged; then they determined to wire the mayor of St. George and get some active support right in the new county territory.

They sent the following telegram:

"Mayor of St. George, Care Operator, Cutler, Ga.—Legislature in session. How would you like to have a new county with St. George for its county seat?"

In a little while the reply came:

"Cutler, Ga., July 5.—Atlanta Ga.: We want county seat moved from Folkston to St. George. N. J. NORMAN."

"Well, by George, the people don't want it," ejaculated the traveling man. "I was ready to open headquarters for Callaway county, but I guess this kills the scheme. Let's go get a beer."

COSSACKS USE THEIR GUNS ON ST. PETERSBURG WORKMEN

St. Petersburg, July 5.—Cossacks fired on the Putiloff works strikers this morning.

The trouble was started by the arrest of a youth who was entering the works. The policeman who took him into custody suspected the young man of having dynamite in his possession. The latter, on being made a prisoner, drew a revolver, and killed the policeman, and was himself wounded by a bullet fired by another policeman.

The strikers quickly gathered around the Peterhof road, and the Cossacks were ordered to disperse them. The soldiers charged, using their whips, and then fired a volley, causing several casualties among the strikers. The excitement in the district is intense.

Supports Wiley for Place.

Americus, Ga., July 5.—(Special.)—At a meeting of Camp Sumter, United Confederate Veterans, the members unanimously pledged their support to Brigadier General Charles M. Wiley, of Macon, for state commander as the successor to Brigadier General McGlashan, who, it is understood, will decline re-election. A resolution to this effect was adopted unanimously by Camp Sumter, after paying merited tributes to General Wiley and General McGlashen alike.

SAFE BLOWERS ARE RETAKEN

Escaped From Lawrenceville Jail But Quickly Overtaken.

Lawrenceville, Ga., July 5.—(Special.)—The safe blowers who got out of the county jail here last night were captured today about 6 miles from town by a posse who got on their track early this morning.

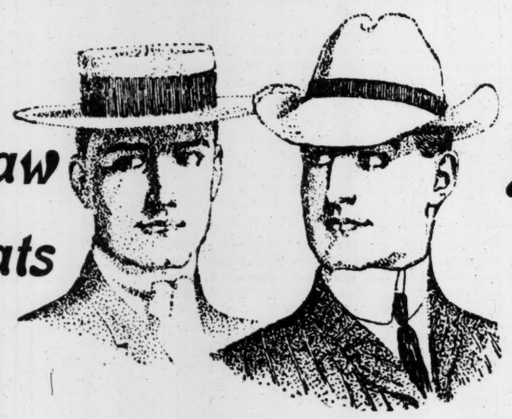

These burglars opened three safes at Carl a short time ago, and were captured by a posse of men in that neighborhood the following day. They have been in jail here since, but succeeded in making their escape last night about dark. They cut a hole in the iron cage, and when the door was opened to give them their supper they made their escape. Another prisoner, charged with burglary, got out, but has not been captured. The officers think they will be able to catch him also.

The safe blowers were tracked from town for about 6 miles by a posse headed by Deputy Sheriff J. G. Brown and others and located in the woods, where they had stopped when daylight overtook them.

They were first discovered by J. A. Coffee. They were all asleep except one, and offered no resistance when they were ordered to surrender. They were brought back here today and lodged in jail.

Funeral of Mrs. Scroggin.

Newnan, Ga., July 5.—(Special.)—Mrs. G. O. Scroggin, whose death occurred yesterday at her home near Newnan, was buried here this afternoon. The funeral services were conducted by Dr. Jas. Stacy, assisted by Dr. W. J. Cotter. The deceased is survived by her husband and one daughter, Mrs. R. C. Moore, of this city.

LOST---ONE DIVINE CALL!

What, oh what, has become of the Divine Call?

Why its abandonment by the Divinely Inspired?

What possible motive could have prompted Mr. Hoke Smith to omit in his Douglasville speech all mention of that upon which he based his candidacy for office in his Madison speech—the claim that he had received a Divine Call?

These questions, doubtless, revolved themselves around in the minds of many of those who heard the Douglasville speech; who looked, but looked in vain, for some enlightenment concerning that Divinely Inspired claim to leadership so eloquently set forth in the opening-gun speech at Madison.

Can there be any doubt of the reason for this notable omission at Douglasville?

"IT IS TRUE," acknowledged Mr. Smith, when questioned concerning the report that he had borrowed Fifty Thousand Dollars in Wall Street upon the indorsement of the President of the Southern Railway. Can there be any doubt that it is the fact of this loan and its consequences that has impelled him to abandon that pretense of a Divine Call to leadership which formed the keynote of his campaign's launching?

Mr. Smith's Douglasville speech was notable principally for the importance of its omissions.

Not one word in explanation of the circumstances of that Fifty Thousand Dollar loan negotiated in Wall Street and indorsed by the President of the Southern Railway. Not one word concerning the position taken by Mr. Smith in those suits involving the constitutionality and validity of the railroad combinations in which suits Mr. Smith appeared in response to fat fees from railroad treasuries, as the defender of railroad combinations. And not one word in explanation of the ominous silence that fell upon the anti-railroad crusade of his newspaper following the negotiation of this loan and the acceptance of those fat fees.

And not one word about that Divine Call!

"It is so soon that I am done for,
I wonder what I was begun for!"

More Provincial Journalism.

The Buffalo (N. Y.) Courier seems determined to make The Constitution's accusation of provincialism against the metropolitan press extend to the up-state papers in New York as well. It thus heads its report of the Watkinsville lynching:

"MOB LYNCHES EIGHT IN ATLANTA STREET."

More enthusiastic ignorance of geography would be difficult to imagine; or perhaps we might soften the charge by designating this performance as a bit of slipshod journalism, since the item itself corrects the misleading headlines. On any count, it is a demonstration of jay journalism which the most recklessly edited sheets out in the "provinces" could scarcely equal if they tried.

Atlanta, of course, appreciates the implied compliment that everything that happens in Georgia happens in this city; but there is another and a more serious side to the matter. We have troubles enough of our own, without being held responsible for those of other parts of this great country.

Hon. O. B. Stevens.

In selecting Hon. O. B. Stevens to be a member of the railway commission, Governor Terrell has chosen one who has made an excellent record in one of the most important offices in the state, and whose record in that office has been given emphatic approval by the votes of the people.

As farmer on a large scale, as merchant, as cotton buyer and, later, acting as the representative of the fruit interests of the section in which he resided, Mr. Stevens has had long and practical experience as a shipper; and this experience, combined with that stock of common sense which may be said to be the chief trait in his make-up, marks him as admirably equipped to handle those business problems with which as member of the railway commission he will be called upon to deal.

Mr. Stevens is a South Georgian, a native of Randolph county. Born in that portion of Randolph which subsequently became Terrell, it is with this latter county his career has, from that day to this, been associated. His father was a farmer, and his early days were spent in acquiring the rudiments of the nowledge of farming, which not only won him success at that avocation in later life, but that have been of so much value to him in the responsible position of commissioner of agriculture, which he has filled so acceptably for several years.

The father of young Stevens was poor but thrifty. The boy inherited these qualities, and when a youth of fourteen or fifteen began clerking in a country store. Here he imbibed those business principles which later enabled him to win success as merchant and dealer in cotton. After some rather disastrous experiences in handling their melon output, the growers of Terrell and the surrounding counties selected Mr. Stevens to handle their output at St. Louis one year and at Pittsburg another, and the success he attained was of practical, money value to those interests. In dealing with matters appertaining to freight shipments he will, therefore, not approach the subject as a novice or a mere theorist.

Mr. Stevens has been quite active in politics since his election as representative from Terrell in the middle eighties. He served two terms in the house and later served with distinction as senator from the eleventh district. Upon the conclusion of his term in the senate, he was elected commissioner of agriculture, a position in which he has served with distinction. His administration of the affairs of this high office, which he still holds, has been marked by great advancement on the part of the agricultural interests of Georgia.

While a number of other able, competent and popular Georgians have been mentioned for the railroad commissionership; and while, naturally, there may be some feeling of disappointment on the part of those who have supported other men; all concede the eminent qualifications of Mr. Stevens for the place.

In all essentials a man of the people, his whole life stands as evidence of the singleness of his purpose in upholding the rights of the people under any and all conditions and circumstances.

When the question of the formation of the railway commission was pending before the legislature, Mr. Stevens was one of a committee of representative business men of Dawson and Americus who came to Atlanta and worked hard for the creation of the commission. That was long before he had taken a hand in politics. He believed in the value of a commission then, and, in common with all thinking Georgians, he has never felt occasion for doubting the wisdom of that legislation. In the hands of honest, eminent Georgians, the commission has been a power of good for the people; and that Mr. Stevens, with his practical, personal knowledge of the needs of shippers, will prove a valuable member of the commission there can be no doubt.

A "Dead Loss" That's Worth While.

"The government," remarks The Springfield Republican, "has got a white elephant on its hands in the universal demand for the extension of the rural postoffice delivery." In spite of the fact that new routes are being established at the rate of 600 a month, about 5,000 applications for new service are still pending, many of them being held up until the appropriation of the last congress becomes available on July 1. After stating these facts, The Republican concludes in this fashion: "It is not surprising that the greatest pressure for the extension of the service is coming from the southern states, where the need for it is very great. In most cases this development is a dead loss to Uncle Sam, and still further loads the postoffice department."

There are dead losses and dead losses, but The Republican did not take the trouble to discriminate. For instance, the millions of dollars appropriated annually for the improvement of rivers, streams and harbors in many portions of the north, west and east, are a "dead loss" as far as a direct benefit to the south is concerned; and the same reasoning is true of a large portion of the very much smaller sum thus expended in this section with relation to the north. But we hear comparatively little complaint from either of the parties, for the reason that we are gradually becoming converted to a broader interpretation of the attitude in which the different sections stand to the national treasury and each other; we are learning the big lesson of cooperation and mutual help, even if the dollar spent by the government in Maine or California is of no benefit to people living in Georgia.

Viewed from the rather circumscribed viewpoint of The Republican, the millions annual loss met by the postoffice department in sustaining unprofitable postoffices all over the country is another "dead loss;" the conditions and the logic are the same. The deficit annually resulting from the extension of the rural free delivery may be a "dead loss" as far as immediate, tangible money return is concerned—as dead a loss at the north as at the south, for in neither section can a rural route be established until the requirements of the department as to the number of persons to be served are fully met.

The postoffice department of the government is not a money-making concern, has never been, and was never intended to be. It is the aim of those responsible for its administration to make it as nearly self-sustaining as possible; but in furnishing better facilities in the big cities of the country—the many deliveries, the pneumatic tube service, and other special equipment—the department does not stop to consider whether or not it will pay, but is guided rather by a desire to furnish the most perfect service possible. The establishment of the rural delivery service was inspired by determination on the part of congress to give to the people in the country some small portion of the postal advantages enjoyed by people living in the cities. An individual rural route may not be self-sustaining—measured by the stamp purchases of persons living along that route—at present or in the near future, but so long as the government is able to maintain that route, giving the people the service to which they are entitled, there is no "dead loss."

Through the service performed by the postoffice department, a larger number of Americans secure some sort of return for the taxes they pay than through any other branch of the government. With the vast majority of them, this is the only means by which they are brought into contact with the government. From army appropriations, navy appropriations, irrigation appropriations, river and harbor appropriations and others, they get no direct benefit.

They do, however, benefit directly from the postal service; and they are equally entitled to the best possible service, whether they live in the country or in the city.

LETTERS FROM PEOPLE.

Fix Terms of Office for All.

Editor Constitution: As the legislature is now in session and the question of reform is agitating the public mind would it not be a good idea to correct many evils that now exist by fixing the term of all officers in this state to four years? In my opinion it would be wise to follow the illustrious example of our daughter across the river, who has already seen fit to fix term of all officers in that state.

R. F. CRITTENDEN.
Shellman, Ga., June 26, 1905.

The North and the South.

Editor Constitution: With some fifty or sixty of my comrades of the New York Confederate Veteran camp I attended the memorial services at General Grant's tomb as a guest of the Grant post of Brooklyn. The assemblage was large and conspicuous for the exceptional character of the audience. I have never seen a finer body of ladies and gentlemen gathered together on a like occasion. Generad Fred Grant and his wife were present and were visibly affected when Captain Graybill read the resolutions adopted by our lamented Gordon and other southern leaders on the occasion of his father's death.

Two admirable speeches were delivered; one by the Rev. Francis J. McConnell, pastor of the New York Avenue Methodist Episcopal church of Brooklyn, and the oher by Captain Graybill, a Georgian now residing in New York, a member of our camp.

While both speeches elicited the warmest plaudits, that of Mr. McConnell went home to the hearts of the Confederate Veterans.

I send you an extract from his eloquent address which I would be glad if you would publish that our people may know how time with its healings has extinguished all bitterness and that gentlemen of the north now accord us unstinted admiration and fraternal regard. Extremists exist in both sections, but happily they are fast diminishing so that their numbers will soon be on a parity with their littleness.

General Grant's noble prayer, "Let Us Have Peace," finds an echo in the hearts of the people in all sections of our country. So mote it be!

PERRY M. DE LEON.
New York, June 26.

The extract from the speech of Rev. F. J. McConnell follows:

"I have been speaking of the union soldier as a peace-maker. In fighting for the union as against the secession, he fought for the world's peace. The establishment of a second republic on the western continent would have meant standing armies for both nations. It would have meant a line of custom houses along the Ohio river. The two republics in a military and a commercial sense would have been a perpetual menace to each other. In fighting against slavery the union soldier was fighting for peace, for slavery, even in the economic sense, was a disturber. Its cry was always for more land. In the very fury with which he fought the union soldier was a peace maker. He aimed to settle the question so conclusively that after the war there should not be enough of the original questions left to wrangle about.

"But in these last days the union soldier can play a still further part as peacemaker, a part second in importance to the nation to none that he played on the actual battle field. By precept and example he can preach the gospel of reconciliation with our brothers of the south, for, strange as it may seem, there are men in both north and south who have not yet heard that the war is over.

"In this final approach to complete understanding there is certainly a common basis for both north and south. We should not allow the south to outdo us in admiration for the bravery of the southern soldier. The world has never seen greater heroism than that of the rank and file of the armies of the confederacy. Who can read, for example, the story not only of the campaigns, but of the hardships of the army of Northern Virginia, without being amazed beyond all expression at the story of surpassing devotion to an ideal? We can agree, too, in paying tributes of praise to the genius of the southern leaders. We should all be proud of Robert E. Lee and Stonewall Jackson. Of course we reserve the right to discuss, in a perfectly friendly way, the respective abilities of northern and southern leaders, but our admiration need not be confined to the leadership of the north.

"Once more we all join in undying respect for the devotion of the entire southern people to a cause as sacred as life itself to them. We do not speak of the southern people as traitors or as sinners. We recognize the absolute sincerity of the belief of the mass of the people in their cause. The belief in their cause had come to them out of the past centuries. Who of us dare to say that if he had been born south of Mason and Dixon's line, of southern ancestry, he would not have been a defender of slavery and an upholder of secession. Especially do we find words failing us when we think of the sacrifices which the southern women cheerfully accepted for their cause. We have read how the women of Carthage, in the long ago, consented to give the hair of their heads to be made into bow strings. It is said on good authority that the proposal was once made that the women of the confederacy sell their hair for the benefit of the southern armies and if the proposition had been seriously urged the women of the south would not have shrunk from precisely the same sacrifice for which we remember the women of Carthage.

"Someone asks, 'But what about the confederate flag?' My answer is at hand. 'Let the confederate flag not be put out of the sight or memory of American citizens.' It does not stand today for a second republic, but it should stand as a beautiful symbol of complete devotion to an honest conviction. Too many glorious associations cling to it to allow us to put it away. If it is not treason for the English-born American citizen to display the English flag beside the Stars and Stripes, it ought not be unworthy for the southern veteran to cherish the flag which he followed for four years of glorious battle, along with that other flag to which he now gives his hearty and patriotic allegiance."

Time Set for Hearing.

Raleigh, N. C., July 5.—(Special.)—The magistrate who is to hear the case of Policeman Isaac Rogers, at Raleigh, for shooting United States Deputy Marshal John Dockery, has set next Monday as the time for the preliminary hearing.

(From The Augusta Chronicle.)

The "People's Candidate" Listening to That "Divine Call."

Scraping the Paint Off the Halo.

(From The Augusta Chronicle.)

Hon. Hoke Smith has been a candidate for governor something less than one short month now—and already considerable paint has been scraped off of his halo.

When we saw the Hon. Hoke enter the political arena, with solemn tread and saintly look, in answer to that "divine call"—from No. 10 South Broad street—we asked ourselves if it could possibly be the same Hoke Smith that we used to know in the old days of railroad wrecking of $60,000 fees. And we said if it was things would most likely begin to happen to him before long. We seriously doubted if he would be able to keep his halo on straight throughout a twelve months' campaign.

He still wears his halo—BUT IT DOESN'T LOOK THE SAME.

They have pulled some of the Hon. Hoke's record on him already. And it has caused lots of people to stop and think.

What sort of "reformer" is it, they are asking themselves, who keeps up an onslaught on railroads until he suddenly finds himself in need of $50,000, and forthwith GOES TO THE HEAD AND MANAGER OF THE "OCTOPUS" WHICH HE HAD BEEN ATTACKING TO GET IT? Then, after getting it, grows suddenly SILENT.

Who, having once formed a financial connection with the "railroad monopoly," from which he had been patriotically endeavoring to "save the people," continues to accept big fees for his "legal opinions" in defense of this monopoly—AND REMAINS SILENT.

Who was a "reformer" with his newspaper, but a defender of monopoly and consolidation in his legal calling—A REGULAR DR. JEKYL IN HIS PERSONAL AND JOURNALISTIC CAPACITY, BUT A RAPACIOUS MR. HYDE IN THE PRACTICE OF HIS PROFESSION.

No wonder the people have stopped to think.

Particularly when the Hon. Hoke's answer to all this is—"meet me on the stump."

As if a joint dispute could do more to clear away the odor of these charges than a prompt, simple denial of them—WITH PROOF TO CONVINCE.

What is there to be gained by a joint debate at this time, anyway? Who wants to be disturbed a year ahead of time by these necessarily acrimonious arguments between two contesting candidates?

Why wouldn't it be better to simply clear up the atmosphere a bit beforehand by saying—"I DIDN'T TAKE PRESIDENT SPENCER'S MONEY; I DIDN'T TALK AND WRITE AGAINST RAILROAD CONSOLIDATION AND, THEN, AS A LAWYER, ACCEPT BIG FEES TO DEFEND IT."

That would be so much better. That would save time—and argument. We could then get down to the real issues of the campaign, knowing just who is who—WITH SO MUCH MORE CONFIDENCE IN THE MAN WHO HAS SNATCHED THE BANNER OF "REFORM" FROM THE HANDS OF THE REAL REFORMERS, JUST AS THEY HAD SUCCEEDED IN MAKING IT WORTH WHILE.

No, a challenge to a joint debate is not an answer to charges like these. It requires but one man to make the necessary answer—AND THAT MAN IS HOKE SMITH. He can do it alone on the stump, just as well as if he had his opponent there with him—or he could have done it several days ago through the columns of his Atlanta organ. PROVIDED, OF COURSE, HE IS IN POSITION TO MAKE A SATISFFACTORY ANSWER AT ALL.

Oratory will not answer such charges. Talk about "collateral" and "interest," and all that sort of thing, will not answer them. If Mr. Smith borrowed that money from Samuel Spencer at all, or through him, he did it well knowing that IT WAS NOT THE "COLLATERAL" that secured for him that loan. And this fact is abundantly proven by the SILENCE of his newspaper, The Atlanta Journal, after Samuel Spencer had SAVED him by the loan of that $50,000.

A CHILD WOULD UNDERSTAND THAT—AND NOBODY UNDERSTOOD IT AT THE TIME BETTER THAN MR. SMITH HIMSELF.

Nobody understands why big fees FROM RAILROADS—railroads that he had been fighting, mind you—kept coming his way. For, whatever may be said of Hoke Smith, he was never a fool.

Try as we may, we fail to find one single justification for Mr. Smith's dual role of antagonist to railroads and railroad monopoly in his personal capacity, and of defender of them FOR A CONSIDERATION in his legal capacity.

We fail to find in Mr. Smith's visit to Wall street and his appeal to the head of the Southern railway for a loan of $50,000 anything that comports with his present role of railroad baiter and reformer. Indeed, his present attitude LACKS EVEN THE MERIT OF GRATITUDE.

All of which brings to mind the adage saying: "You can fool all of the people some of the time; and some of the people all of the time; but you can't fool all the people all of the time."

And, from time immemorial, just as smart people as the Hon. Hoke was ever credited with being, have tried it over and over again.

STATE PRESS COMMENT ON GUBERNATORIAL CAMPAIGN

Did Not Mince Matters.

(From The Athens Constitution of yesterday did not mince matters with the Hon. Hoke Smith.

The Monumental Demagogue.

(From The Americus Times-Recorder.)

The Atlanta Constitution yesterday fairly mopped the earth with Hoke Smith and his presumptious and sacrilegious plea of "divine call" as a political leader, and shows up his record as the monumental demagogue he really is.

He's Not Being Slighted.

(From The Eatonton Messenger.)

The Atlanta Constitution is handing bouquets to all the candidates for governor except Hoke Smith. Why slight Hoke?

The Tooley Street Politicians.

(From The Lumpkin Independent.)

Hoke Smith, the newest candidate for governor of Georgia, has opened the campaign at Madison, Ga., with a roseate fanfarronade of eloquence, and his henchman, The Atlanta Journal, thinks he has captured the United States.

Some Figures.

(From The Augusta Chronicle.)

We suspected it all along.

The Hoke Smith managers needed that special train for political purposes only.

That is, it served their purpose far better to be told they couldn't get it than to get it.

It turns out, after all, that "the Hoke Smith special" to Madison wouldn't have interfered with that excursion from Athens to Charleston in the least.

As it was, the road managed to scrape up three extra coaches for the Hoke Smith party—and every man in the party had aboue five seats each.

According to The Chronicle's special staff correspondent, just thirty-eight people comprised the Hoke Smith party from Atlanta to Madison—and this included a brass band of nine pieces and eight newspaper men.

The party itself consisted of just twenty-one all told.

There were almost as many extra coaches as people in the Hoke Smith Atlanta outfit.

One coach will comfortably seat from sixty-two to seventy-five people. So that in the three coaches there were at least 200 seats—probably more.

Or more than five seats for each member of the party—including the band and the newspaper men.

Room to stretch out and roll around. Room to play leap-frog and even handball.

Why, oh why, didn't The Atlanta Journal think to carry its carrier boys along?

It would have been such a nice trip for the little fellows.

And so much room.

Verily, noise and newspaper scareheads don't make a real, sure enough gubernatorial boom.

It almost shakes our faith in advertising.

But, then, much depends upon the article advertised.

Honest, now, boys, aren't you glad you didn't get that special train?

What in the mischief could you have done with it if you had?

Yet you thought not to be able to get it would be worth so much to you as political capital, didn't you, boys?

But it wasn't.

Thirty-eight—including the band.

Count 'em.

The Dago Vote.

(From The Thomasville Times-Enterprise.)

The Atlanta News says Hoke Smith opened his campaign in a Sicilian cost. Playing to catch the dago vote!

Fiddling on One String.

(From The Rome Tribune.)

We think the Hon. Hoke is going to get mighty weary fiddling on that one string from this date until he meets his finish.

And the Other 99 Cents.

(From The Americus Times-Recorder.)

Editor Bolfeuillet does not believe the railroads will spend $500,000 to beat Hoke Smith. It would be a needless waste of $499,999.

A Summer Opening.

(From The Americus Times-Recorder.)

Hoke Smith opened his campaign yesterday and for a "summer opening" it was no doubt a success, with facts marked down low and cheap argument piling the bargain counter.

A TRIBUTE.

Upon the lawn at Ingleside,
One charming, balmy eventide,
Just as adown the glowing west
The sun was sinking to his rest,
I stood and gazed on four bright eyes
That shone with azure of the skies
And two fair forms of queenly grace
That well became each beauteous face.
I love them both and they love me;
Yet we from jealousy are free.
One lovely head hath hair of brown,
While silver locks the other crown.
These ladies fair make glad my life;
My daughter, one, and one, my wife.

HOUSE FLOODED WITH NEW BILLS

Interesting and Important Measures Presented Yesterday.

Speaker Slaton Has Not Yet Announced His Committees, but Will Make Appointments in Time for Organization Early Next Week.

The session of the house of representatives yesterday was characterized by the vast amount of new legislation which made its appearance, nearly 100 new bills and resolutions having been introduced.

Among these new measures which will prove of interest in their consideration are bills to provide for a graduated inheritance and income tax; to relieve all cotton held in Georgia from taxation for one year; to provide a uniform law covering negotiable instruments; to exempt oats from states infested by the boll weevil from the provisions of the boll weevil bill passed last year under which their shipment into Georgia was restricted; to make notes due on Sunday or holiday payable the day after instead of the day before such Sunday or holiday; to provide that only the taxes paid by negroes shall be expended for the education of negro children; to exempt all church and educational property in the state from taxation; to require the vaccination of all children attending schools in Georgia; to provide for increasing the punishment upon second conviction of the same offense; to prohibit excursion trains on Sunday; to make it a misdemeanor to bet on any election in the state; to abolish the colored troops in Georgia; to provide a scheme for local taxation for school purposes, and to provide a penalty for the adulteration and misbranding of foods.

It will be seen that the foregoing list furnishes some prospective legislation which will be productive of no little interesting discussion.

Modify Exclusion Act.

The house adopted a resolution by Mr. Longley, of Troup, calling upon the president and the congress of the United States to take steps at once looking to the repeal or the modification of the Chinese exclusion act, not only with a view to restoring good relations between China and the United States, but also with a view to extending the commerce of the United States with that country. Mr. Longley represents a county and a section where numerous cotton mills are located and these, having enjoyed a satisfactory trade with the Orient, have been affected in no small degree by the Chinese boycott. Copies of the resolution adopted yesterday will be sent to the president and vice president of the United States and the speaker of the national house of representatives.

The house passed a joint resolution by Mr. Nix, of Gwinnett, extending an invitation to Rev. Sam P. Jones, of Cartersville, to deliver an address to the general assembly at such time and upon such subject as will best suit his convenience.

A resolution by Mr. Hines, of Baldwin, was passed providing for the appointment of a committee to investigate the water supply at the state sanitarium at Milledgeville, which is said to be in rather a dangerous state.

Resolutions were introduced by Mr. Smith, of Greene, providing for a special committee to consider all new county legislation and providing for two sessions of the house each day. These go over until tomorrow.

Committee Appointments.

Speaker Slaton did not appoint his standing committees yesterday as was expected because of the fact that he is trying in so far as is possible and expedient to conform to the wishes of the members as well as to make each committee as strong as possible. Another matter which he is considering is that of giving each section of the state representation on those committees in the work of which they are most interested.

Some of the members have sent requests to the speaker in connection with the committee appointments and have failed to give the names. Speaker Slaton will be glad to consider these, but must have both the name of the member and the name of the committee to which appointment is desired before he can do so.

For the reasons stated the appointment of the house committees has been a very difficult work. Speaker Slaton, stated, however, that the appointments would be made not later than Monday, and it may be they can be completed for announcement on Friday or Saturday. At any rate the committees will be able to organize and get to work early next week, and they will find plenty of work on hand when they do.

Governor Terrell's message was read in the house after the usual preliminaries. The message had been printed and distributed so that most of the members had already read it.

Flood of New Bills.

The following new bills were introduced in the house yesterday:

By Mr. Longino, of Campbell—To prohibit the sale of any kind of drinks within 1 mile of Bethesda church, in Campbell county.

By Mr. Longino, of Campbell—To relieve from taxation for one year all cotton in the hands of farmers, ware house men, cotton mill men and other persons in this state.

By Messrs. Alexander and Mayson, of DeKalb—To establish a public school system for the public school district of Lithonia.

By Mr. Whitley, of Douglas—To repeal section 61 of the political code providing for the voting by electors at other precincts or wards than those in which they live.

By Mr. Mann, of Catoosa—To raise revenue for the state government by the levy of a tax on gains, gross profits, incomes and inheritances.

By Mr. Covington, of Colquitt—To amend paragraph 2 section 2, article 7 of the constitution so as to exempt from taxation all places of religious worship or burial, and all property belonging to colleges, incorporated academies or other seminaries of learning and to provide for the ratification of said amendment.

By Messrs. Lawrence, Anderson and Stovall, of Chatham—To authorize judges of the city court of Savannah to open defaults upon payment of costs, and for other purposes.

By Mr. Ramsay, of Jefferson—To incorporate the town of Wadley in the county of Jefferson.

By Mr. Whitley, of Douglas—To amend section 60 of the political code, relating to electors voting at other than their own precincts.

Compulsory Vaccination.

By Mr. Whitley, of Douglas—To compel the vaccination of school children in Georgia.

By Mr. Bacon, of Bryan—To amend the fish and game laws so as to provide for the appointment and compensation of game wardens and deputies.

By Mr. Beauchamp, of Butts—To pay the pension of Mrs. Jane Fogg, deceased.

By Mr. Conner, of Bartow—To prohibit any person from entering the house of another, upon the protest of any person dwelling therein, and to require such person to leave when requested to do so.

By Mr. Beauchamp, of Butts—To regulate the fees of the clerks of superior courts in certiorari cases.

By Mr. Lawrence, of Chatham—To authorize the judges of the trial courts in the state to increase the punishment for the following crimes, when committed more than once by the same offender: Burglary, larceny after trust, forgery, larceny from the house and all misdemeanors.

By Mr. Clements, of Dodge—To create and organize the county of Stephens from the county of Montgomery.

By Mr. Bacon, of Bryan—To amend the act of 1903 prescribing the qualifications of jurors.

By Mr. Fussell, of Chattahoochee—To change the venue in justice courts on account of disqualifications.

No Sunday Excursions.

(By Mr. Parker, of Appling—To make it a misdemeanor for railroads to transport passengers on the Sabbath at less than the regular fare, or, in other words, to prohibit Sunday excursions.

By Mr. Perry, of Hall—To provide a new charter for the town of Lula.

GEN. LEE HERE NEXT WEEK.

Commander Confederate Veterans Will Raise Fund for Monuments and Markers.

Lieutenant General Stephen D. Lee, commander in chief of the United Confederate Veterans' Association, will be in Atlanta next week for the purpose of raising an appropriation for Georgia monuments and markers at the Vicksburg national military park.

It is not known exactly what day the distinguished general will arrive. The information came to The Constitution in a letter from William T. Rigby, chairman of the park commission, of which General Lee is a member.

The commissioners feel sure that Georgia will respond liberally when asked to contribute to a fund for monuments and markers worthy of the patriotism of the soldiers of Georgia.

OUTING FOR POOR JULY 19.

Salvation Army Will Entertain Mothers and Children at Grant Park.

The local corps of the Salvation Army, through its commander, Captain Ross Boucher, announces that it will give an outing to poor mothers and their children on July 19 at Grant park.

The Salvation Army is ever ready, with a strong arm, to help the poor and suffering, as was evidenced last Christmas and during the unprecedented freeze of last winter. The members of the army have gone to work in earnest to prepare for the outing, and its success is assured.

The army expects to have about 250 children at Grant park on July 19.

A GREAT DAY IN PICKENS.

Fourth of July Witnessed Jolly Celebration.

Tate, Ga., July 5.—(Special.)—The Fourth of July was celebrated in a thoroughly American way by the people of this section.

The Georgia Marble Company was the host at an enjoyable outing, which was attended by their friends and employees, and nothing was spared by Colonel Tate to make the event a delightful one.

A baseball game was played both morning and afternoon. In the morning game Tate's second nine played Hanston's team from Atlanta, defeating them by a score of 9 to 8 in ten innings. Humphreys was in the box for Tate; Bradley for Atlanta.

In the afternoon Tate's first nine defeated Fairburn in one of the best games ever seen here, score, 6 to 5. Pitchers: Pemon and Jordan for Tate, and Lemon and Jones for Fairburn.

Ran the Hole Out of Town.

(From Woman's Home Companion.)

Burton Holmes, the lecturer, tells of a Russian he saw some years ago in Manchuria whose methods of achieving results were not according to the usual code. The Russian had a well in his front yard which he concluded to fill up. He began by digging a hole by the side of the well, throwing the dirt from the new excavation into the well.

"In the course of time," said Mr. Holmes, "the old well was filled, but there was a hole alongside as big as the first. The Russian went farther away and dug another hole to fill the second.

"He continued this process of digging one hole to fill the other until he literally ran the hole out of town."

SENATE TALKS NEW COUNTIES

All Legislation Affecting New Counties Goes to Committee.

Matter Was Discussed in a Lively Manner Yesterday Before Resolution Was Finally Adopted. Routine of Work of the Senate Yesterday.

An indication as to the future in the matter of new county legislation, and the carefulness with which this question will be considered by the present general assembly, was given in the senate yesterday when a resolution affecting this matter precipitated a lively discussion.

Senator Wheatley, of the seventeenth district, introduced a resolution affecting the matter of appointing a "new county" committee from the senate, which was intended as a substitute for a resolution which was offered last week.

Senator Wheatley's resolution not only provided for the appointment of the committee from the senate, but also, in a measure, prescribed the duties of this committee, and provided that it should meet with the committee on new counties from the house.

Senator Blalock, of the twenty-sixth, introduced an amendment to Senator Wheatley's resolution providing that no senator whose territory was likely to be affected by apportioning new counties be named on the committee.

Senator Candler Objects.

Senator Candler, of the thirty-fourth, objected to some of the provisions of Senator Wheatley's resolution, and also to the amendment of Senator Blalock. Mr. Candler contended that the duties of the committee should not be prescribed in a resolution creating the committee, saying that he did not believe it would be acting according to parliamentary practice and in keeping with the dignity of the senate in thus hampering the movements of a standing committee of such importance.

As to Senator Blalock's amendment cutting off from service on the committee senators whose territory was likely to be affected, Senator Candler objected in strong language, contending that it would be far more proper to leave the matter of appointment of members of this committee entirely to the discretion of the president of the senate, "whose honor, wisdom and patriotism no member of the senate can for a moment doubt, and that he will be guided by these virtues I am sure you will all agree."

Senator Blalock replied to Mr. Candler, holding that the matter should be regulated like the selection of jurymen, not placing any man on the committee whose interests would likely be directly affected. However, it was a matter which he was perfectly willing to leave entirely with the senate.

Senator Lumsden introduced a substitute, which provided that the committee should be appointed, but that it should take no action on the matter of new counties during the present session of the general assembly, but should wait until after the session and hear arguments for and against the new counties. Senator Lumsden's resolution further provided that while serving between sessions these senators should receive their regular "per diem."

Senator Reid immediately objected to this substitute, and on the ground that the senate could not, by resolution, appropriate this needed extra money for the committee to hold its meetings between the sessions of the present general assembly. The substitute was killed.

Dr. Crum's Resolution.

Dr. Crum, senator from the fourteenth district, then introduced a resolution as a substitute for the whole, providing merely that a committee on new counties and county lines be appointed by the president.

Dr. Crum followed his resolution with a speech in which he heartily indorsed the sentiments expressed by Senator Candler in regard to leaving the matter to the discretion of the presiding officer. "I believe," said Dr. Crum, "that the wisdom and impartiality of the presiding officer is a sufficient guarantee of justice to all."

Senator Candler offered as an amendment to Senator Crum's substitute for the whole a provision that all matters relating to new counties "shall be referred" to this committee. Dr. Crum readily accepted the amendment.

The resolution as finally adopted reads:

"By Mr. Crum of the fourteenth:

"Be it resolved, That a regular standing committee of the senate, to be known as the committee on new counties and county lines, be appointed by the president, to which all bills, resolutions, etc., touching or relating to the creation of new counties shall be referred."

Senator Wheatley defended his resolution, stating that while he was not a lawyer, he had acted in this matter as he always did in his personal affairs, and had gone to the highest authority for advice. He stated that he consulted with Attorney General Hart, and that he did not think he had embodied anything in his resolution which was contrary to law.

A communication was received from the house containing a joint resolution adopted by that body inviting Bishop Charles B. Galloway to deliver his address on L. Q. C. Lamar to a joint session of the house and senate, also inviting Rev. Sam P. Jones to address the general assembly.

A resolution introduced by Senator Rose yesterday met with instant and hearty favor. It provided that the keeper of public buildings immediately install electric fans in the senate chamber. The resolution, according to the rules, will lay on the table for one day.

In executive session, the following appointments were received from the governor:

Hon. W. F. Eve, to be judge of the city court of Augusta.

J. C. C. Black, Jr., to be solicitor of the city court of Augusta.

Hon. E. W. Hammond, to be judge of the city court of Griffin.

Hon. Graham Forrester, to be solicitor of the county court of Stewart county.

Hon. O. E. Stevens, of the county of Terrell, to be railroad commissioner.

The senate adjourned promptly at 1 o'clock to meet today at 12 o'clock noon.

Mead's Perfection

Rye Coffee

Rye Coffee, in some European countries, is so universally used that Coffee of any other kind is but little known. It is a noticeable fact that in sections of the world where Rye is freely used, both as a food and drink (non-alcoholic), a very healthy condition exists, and rarely, if ever, are such sections visited with epidemics of any kind.

PERFECTION RYE COFFEE is just what its name implies, "PERFECTION." It is a perfect hygenic product, containing the whole kernel of carefully selected Rye and other Cereals scientifically manufactured and skillfully blended.

It does not contain any chicory or other Coffee seasonings and substitutes, neither is there any chaff or screenings in it. While it has the delicate flavor of Mocha & Java Coffee, it is unlike these Coffees, in that it does not irritate the nerves nor produce biliousness. It positively aids digestion, is easily assimilated by the weakest stomach, and assists nature generally. It is a boon—if there is such a thing to the dyspeptic—and specially recommended for Kidney difficulties.

It is in every sense a pure Health-Food. It looks like coffee, tastes like coffee, smells like coffee, but is not coffee.

TAPP TO SPEAK AT LOUISVILLE

Atlanta Lawyer to Discuss Politics Before the People of Jefferson.

Louisville, Ga., July 5.—(Special.)—The indications are that a large crowd of people not only of Louisville, but from the surrounding towns and country will be present to hear the political address of Colonel Sidney C. Tapp on Saturday of this week.

Colonel Tapp is quite well known here, his strong support of Hon. Dupont Guerry in the last gubernatorial campaign having made him many friends in this county, which gave its vote for Guerry. The fact that he will assume to speak for the straight-out reformers lends especial interest to his speech at this particular time.

It is understood here that he will advocate the nomination of Hon. Joe Hill Hall to represent the men who have made the reform fights in the past, and that he will have a good deal to say about what he and they call the "sham" reform campaign of Mr. Hoke Smith.

An Example.

(From The New York Tribune.)

Of recent years the government officials in charge of the Yellowstone park have been on the alert to see that none of the changes or improvements made from time to time should in any way clash with the rustic surroundings. Buildings which were to be painted received a coating of a pigment which would be in entire harmony with the immediate surroundings, and such buildings were made as unobtrusive as possible, so as not to thrust themselve unduly on the eye of the spectator.

If the recent construction of a hotel at the Old Faithful geyser this idea was carried to the extreme, with the result that one of the most novel hostelries in the world was reared on the spot. This hotel is rustic from start to finish.

All gables and eaves are supported by natural wood bent crooks, of which 5,000 were used, on the exterior of the building and in the lobby of the hotel. The first floor walls are all of massive logs sawed on two sides. In the bed rooms the logs are all peeled, but in the lobby the bark has been left on. The stair treads are all of hewed logs of the puncheon finish, with balustrades and railings made of poles and crooks.

One of the principal features of the lobby is the chimney with open fireplaces. This is of rough hewn stone, and occupies a floor space 16 feet square. The eight fireplaces in this chimney are fitted out with andirons, cranes, pothooks, iron wood racks and other similar furnishings. All the chinaware is the old willow pattern.

IT will be an old-fashioned baby show that Mrs. Charles Nunnally and others will give this afternoon for the benefit of the Ponce de Leon Baptist church.

Babies from 3 months to 4 years are eligible to the competition, and there will be three sets of prizes awarded. Already innumerable infants have been entered, presenting all types of beauty from those conscious of golden curls tied with blue bows to those with no hair at all. Blonde babies, brunette babies, those with blue eyes, and black, will all be in their best bib and tucker, and do their "prettiest" when the judges appear. The show begins at 5 o'clock and ends at 7, and all the asipirants for prizes are requested to be on hand promptly at 5 o'clock with a quarter each, that being the small entrance fee demanded.

Besides the all interesting feature of the show, there will be dainty refreshments served by a group of lovely young women. Among them Miss Sallie Brown, Miss Emma Robinson, Miss Rosabel Hynds, Miss Mamie Nunnally, Misses Ethel and Jennie Mobley, Misses Esther and Henrietta Maens, Miss Ethel Kelly, Miss Mamie Coffee.

The show takes place at the residence of Mrs. Charles Nunnally, 77 Ponce de Leon circle, and the judges will be Judge John T. Pendleton, Hon. W. J. Northen, Mrs. George McCarty, Mrs. Sam D. Jones and Mrs. S. T. Marett.

Among the patronesses will be Mrs. W. D. Ellis, Mrs. John Pendleton, Mrs. Junius Millard, Mrs. W. J. Northen, Mrs. J. B. Robinson, Mrs. Joseph Hirsch.

Miss Mignon McCarty and Miss Mary Robinson will preside at the punch bowl.

For Sheltering Arms.

THERE will be an ice cream festival for the benefit of the Sheltering Arms Free Kindergarten Association Friday, July 7, from 6 until 8 o'clock, on the roof garden of the Sheltering Arms, 161 Walton street. The public are cordially invited to patronize the event.

To Miss Stern.

MISS EDNA B. STERN, of Philadelphia, will arrive in Atlanta this afternoon. She will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Leopold J. Haas, at the Frederick apartments, 352 Whitehall street.

Mr. and Mrs. Haas will receive for her at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Haas, 321 Washington street, Sunday at 5 o'clock, when a number of their friends will be delightfully entertained.

Miss Lewis' Party.

MISSES MARIE AND CLAIRE KLINE, of Columbia, S. C., were entertained delightfully at cards yesterday morning by Miss Margaret Lewis, at her home on Peachtree. Six-hand euchre was played, and the tables were placed on the veranda. The first prize, a Christy picture, was won by Miss Penelope Clarke, and the consolation, which was also a Christy picture, was drawn by Miss Silvey Speer. The guest prize, a tambourine, on which was painted an Indian's head, was won by Miss Carnes.

Miss Lewis received her guests in a dainty gown of white, and those who enjoyed her hospitality were Misses Penelope and Frances Clarke, Miss Josephine Stoney, Miss Emmie Baker, Miss Eliza Dancy, Miss Eloise Oliver, Miss Clifford West, Miss Silvey Speer, Miss Aurelia Speer, Miss Helen Williamson, Miss Lillian Williamson, Miss Ella B. Rushton, Miss Fanny H. Dickson, Miss Mary Anderson, Miss Marguerite Beck, Miss Annie Caverly, Miss Annie Watson, Miss May Cooper and the Misses Cornet.

LADIES' SPRING JACKET

Reproduced by PEERLESS PATTERN No. 2608

The covert jacket has taken a new lease of life and this season is shown with slight modifications from that of the past. The present mode has shaped straps that are widest at the shoulders and taper gracefully to accentuate the tapering lines of the figure. The closing is made in a fly and above the fronts are rolled in shapely lapels by the coat collar. The jacket is gored to the shoulders and extends a fashionable depth below the hip line. Oddly shaped cuffs turn back on the two-piece sleeves.

The pattern is in 8 sizes—32 to 46 inches, bust measure. For 36 bust, the jacket requires 4¾ yards of material 27 inches wide, 3½ yards 36 inches wide, 3⅛ yards 44 inches wide, or 2¾ yards 54 inches wide; 2 yards of cord to trim. Price, 15 Cents.

WOOD RELEASED ON $1,500 BOND

Carey Wood Was Given His Freedom Yesterday Morning.

Carey Wood, the well known manufacturer, who was arrested and held by the grand jury a few weeks ago on the charge of arson, was released from the Tower yesterday on a $1,500 bond signed by his brother, Robert R. Wood.

Wood was suspected of having set fire to his skirt factory on East Mitchell street. The fire occurred about 12 o'clock at night and the damages amounted to about $15,000. On the second floor of the building was Wood's factory. He was arrested by city detectives and later indicted by the grand jury.

After his arrest, it was stated that his friends intended to take out a writ of lunacy, believing that Wood was not of sound mind. This, however, has not so far been done.

The bond was signed yesterday morning in the sheriff's office and Wood was immediately given his freedom.

NEW TRIAL IS ORDERED.

Decree Issued by Judge Reid in Big Damage Case Against Road.

Judge Reid, of the Atlanta city court, has handed down to the clerk of court for record a decree directing a new trial in the suit of Mrs. Maude Smith against the Atlanta, Knoxville and Northern Railroad Company.

In the trial which occurred before Judge Reid in March last, the plaintiff, whose husband, Clyde Smith, at the time of his death was an engineer on the Atlanta, Knoxville and Northern railroad, was given a verdict for $20,000. Smith met his death in a derailment of the engine he was driving, and his widow brought suit against the company for $50,000. Arnold & Arnold appearing for the plaintiff, while Smith, Hammond & Smith represented the road.

The verdict, next to the largest ever given against a railroad company in Georgia, and wholly unsatisfactory to defendant company, the Atlanta, Knoxville and Northern, and a new trial was asked by the road's attorneys. Judge Reid took the request for a new hearing under consideration, and yesterday handed down a decree declaring that a new trial was legally demanded, and would be heard at some date fixed during the fall term of the court.

NIGHT OFFICERS NEEDED AT PARK

Park Board Wants Police Board to Furnish Policemen.

Chairman Brown Says the State of Affairs That Exists at the Park After 10 O'Clock at Night Should Not Be Tolerated.

Police supervision of Grant Park at night to remedy what is termed "an indecent state of affairs" will be demanded of the police commission by the park commission as the result of action taken by the latter body yesterday afternoon.

The action referred to was the adoption of a motion by Chairman Walter Brown requesting a detail of two bicycle policemen to patrol the park after 10 o'clock at night. In speaking to this motion the chairman said:

'Between 10 o'clock at night and 8 o'clock in the morning there is nobody but a night watchman to look after the park. I know that things that should not be tolerated go on out there, and if I lived in the vicinity I would kick up a pretty loud rumpus about it, I'll tell you. Why conditions there at night are positively indecent.

"We ought to have two more policemen—bicycle officers—for night patrol duty. In the next municipal campaign I'm going to make the question of a sufficient appropriation for the parks a live issue, and don't you forget it."

Some one suggested that the police commissioners should send fewer men to the ball games and more to protect the character of Grant Park, but Commissioner Oldknow, who, as chairman of the police committee, is also a member of the police board, said:

"The police board details no men whatever to serve at the ball games. The policemen that go there do it gratuitously, when off duty. They are accorded permissions to attend the games, outside of working hours, on condition that they stand ready to help preserve order."

The motion of Chairman Brown was then adopted by a unanimous vote and will be presented to the police board, by Commissioner Oldknow, at the next meeting of that body.

To Watch Watchman.

The discussion arose over the announcement that the night watchman, on arecent night, discovered about midnight that a negro dance had been in progress near the Park avenue entrace ever since the policeman had gone off duty at 10 o'clock. It was also determined by the board that a watchman's clock, of such make as is approved by insurance companies, should be purchased in order to "keep tab" on the watchman.

"How do we know that he isn't asleep all night?" remarked Commissioner Oldknow. "The watchman last year worked at the park soda fountain all day and was supposed to keep an eye on the whole park at night. But lately somebody has been stealing rabbits and other things, and I'm in favor of the clock."

It was also decided to make a new rule to the effect that all picnic parties should first secure a permit from Superintendent Parks.

A motion was adopted calling upon the Georgia Railway to run cars on its Washington streets line clear up to the Augusta avenue entrance, instead of stopping them, as is now done, at the corner of Ormond street and Cherokee avenue. In the event this request is denied the commission will take steps to have the tracks removed, as the franchise requires the company to run at least one car every thirty minutes to the Augusta avenue entrance, or forfeit all its rights to maintain the tracks.

Several Salaries Raised.

The pay of W. C. Lewis, park carpenter and mechanic, was raised from $60 to $75 a month and that of Fritz Ritter, the park florist, from $1.75 a day to a straight salary of $65 a month. A motion was also adopted requiring the superintendent to hire no extra laborers at less pay than $1.50 a day.

"I don't want to be connected with any firm, corporation or city that hires white man for a less amount than that," remarked Secretary Jerome Jones.

A motion was also adopted authorizing the chairman to appoint himself and two others as a committee to spend all available funds for the purchase of animals. This money amounts to $2,000, half from the Georgia Railway and Electric Company and half from the city.

IN THE COURTS.

The Georgia Industrial Insurance Company, with headquarters in Atlanta, must make a showing September 9 before Judge Pendleton of the Fulton superior court of its financial conditions, its mode of conducting business and must explain why certain losses claimed to have been sustained were not paid, so says a decree engrossed by Judge Pendleton yesterday upon a suit which has been pending against that company.

J. N. Bradford & Company, a firm composed of J. N. Bradford and E. E. Jones, of Mitchell county, doing business at Pelham, in that county, carried a policy with the defendant company, the Georgia Industrial Insurance Company, for $600, the amount covering their building and the contents, both of which were destroyed by fire. Subsequent to the destruction of the property the insured firm, J. N. Bradford & Company, made claim for the amount for which the policy was written. The claim was submitted in legal form and within the time prescribed by law and the receipt of the claim was acknowledged, but payment was not made, the insurance company declaring that there were not funds sufficient at that time to satisfy the obligation. Repeated demands were made upon the Georgia Industrial Insurance Company, declares the plea, for pecuniary satisfaction, but without result. The company never denied, so the paper says, the right of the claim. The plaintiff firm then appealed to the comptroller general, when it was ascertained that the firm was not at that time recognized by that official, who had been seeking an opportunity to examine the books of the company—a request which had been denied. Upon the presentation of the papers Judge Pendleton issued the order indicated, directing the defendant company to make a showing as indicated before him on the date set in his order. Upon that showing the future of the Georgia Industrial Insurance Company may largely depend.

Mrs. Mary E. Carmen, of Atlanta, some months ago sold to J. BR. Scott, at that time a citizen of Atlanta, but now a resident, it is presumed of Kansas City, property on Capitol avenue, in Atlanta, and is now holding twenty-nine notes for $25 each and one note for $33.09 as an evidence of that sale. Since the sale of the property, upon which E. L. Douglas has a claim of $1,500, by Mrs. Carmen to Scott, the property has become vacant, and that vacancy is due, so the papers say, to Scott's abndonment. Now Mrs. Carmen asks that a receiver be appointed to take charge of the property, collect the rents and hold the money subject to the order of the court, her petition originating in her desire to maintain her equity in the property. Judge Pendleton named S. B. Turman as receiver to take charge of the property, to see to its renting and to hold the moneys received for future orders of the court.

Thomas Griffin yesterday filed suit against Nettie Griffin for divorce, desertion beng the grounds for the request.

Candy O'Donell, a resident of Atlanta, wants $10,000 of the Georgia Railway and Electric Light Compny's money because a car operated by that corporation knocked him from the street car track on Hunter street in June last. The petition recites that O'Donnell, during a heavy rainstorm, one evening, essayed to cross the street, and without giving him any warning of its approach, a car struck him with force sufficient to knock him senseless and to render his money-making capacity wholly inadequate to what it had been.

James Ellison yesterday filed a suit against the Seaboard Air Line for $2,000, claiming that he was injured in a collision between trains in June last at Miners Station, in Fulton county. Ellison's petition declares that the railroad company was wholly at fault and that he was altogether faultless in the accident.

GIVE NATURE A CHANCE

The Indian and pioneer were compelled to rely upon nature in time of sickness, and were quick to discover the healing properties of certain waters. Among the oldest and best known medicinal waters in Georgia is the Daniel Mineral Spring, located in Greene County. Its waters have been prescribed by physicians for stomach, kidney and bladder troubles for nearly a century. Physicians will tell you that it is best sometimes to give nature a chance, and that nothing is so good for the human system as a pure, wholesome mineral water. Daniel Mineral Spring Water is not only cleansing and healing to the stomach, kidneys and bowels, but has a happy, tonic effect, increasing the appetite and improving the digestion. A case of 6 half-gallon bottles delivered at your office or home for 45c. Both phones 2434.

Atlanta, Ga., April 20, 1905.
I most cheerfully state that I have been intimately acquainted with the Daniel Mineral Spring for the past 35 or 40 years. The people for miles around always spoke in high praise of it as a promoter of digestion and a cure for constipation and kidney diseases. My father-in-law, Dr. J. E. Randle, a practitioner of medicine for 60 years, often advised his patients afflicted with chronic diseases, especially constipation, dyspepsia and insomnia, to use it plentifully. They did so with beneficial results.

VESPERS LOSE TO LEANDERS

Great Crowd Witnessed Second Heat for Challenge Cup.

English Oarsmen Won by a Length. The Americans Rowed a Great Race — English Oarsmen Surprised at Work of the Vespers.

Henley, England, July 5.—The Leanders defeated the Vespers, of Philadelphia, today, in the second heat for the grand challenge cup. The Englishmen won by a length. Time, 7:01.

The boats got away together, but the nervousness of the Philadelphians was shown in the splashing which marked their first half-dozen strokes. The Leanders started with a stroke of forty-one to the minute and the Vespers with thirty-nine. The nose of the British craft forged slightly to the front, but there was not much to choose between them when they passed Temple island in the record time of forty-seven seconds.

The Philadelphians, however, began to give signs that the hard work was telling on them. The Leanders dropped their stroke to thirty-seven, but the Vespers could not diminish the lead of half a length which the home crew had already obtained. This was increased to a full length. When ¾ of a mile had been covered, the Leanders again slowed down their stroke to thirty-four, but they always maintained a lead. In the last quarter the Vespers made a desperate spurt, and their boat gradually forged up until three-quarters of a length separated the two prows. The effort, however, was futile. The Leanders had plenty in hand. They responded to the spurt of their opponents and passed the line winning by a length. Both crews finished strong.

In the second heat of the semi-finals for the grand challenge cup the Belgians beat the London Rowing Club by three lengths. Time 7:20.

HUSBAND SHOOTS HARDY.

Dooney Hardy, Old Atlanta Pitcher, Was Shot Through the Left Lung Yesterday.

Troy, N. Y., July 5.—(Special.)—Alexander Hardy, the crack pitcher of the Troy team of the state league, lies in the Samaritan hospital in this city with a bullet in his left lung, near the heart. His condition is considered serious.

The shooting was the result of attentions which, it is alleged, Hardy paid to Mrs. Charles Thero, of Danbury, Conn., who had left her husband and had been boarding in Troy two or three months. Thero is in the Troy jail charged with the crime.

Mr. and Mrs. Thero have never lived happily together, but Thero has continued to support the woman, despite her refusal to live with him. He heard recently that she was receiving the attentions of Hardy, and came to Troy to investigate. Meeting the couple on the street, he drew his revolver and fired.

Dooney Hardy was one of Atlanta's best pitchers in the earlier part of last season. Toward the middle of the year Hardy lost game after game, through the hard luck route. He was finally given an unconditional release.

AMERICAN TEAM LOSES DOUBLES

Smith and Risely Were the Winners of the Match.

London, July 5.—Beals C. Wright and Holcombe Ward retired today from the all-England doubles tennis championship, only after what was conceded to be the most magnificent exhibition of lawn tennis ever seen at Wimbledon. S. H. Smith, the Welsh champion, and Frank L. Risely, one of the best exponents of tennis in England, their opponents, played at the top of their form, Smith's driving being especially brilliant.

In the first set, the Americans simply smothered the Britishers, but the effort seemed to tire them, and they lost the second and third sets by ill judged play. The "fireworks" began in the fourth set, when Wright commenced to play the game of his life, ably assisted by Ward. The Americans won the first four games with the Britishers contesting every point, but in the fast play which continued to the end the Britishers finally got the upper hand and took the set, 9-7.

THERY TAKES BENNETT CUP

Italian Champion In the Lead Till Near the Finish.

Las Champ, France, July 5.—France again established her supremacy in an international automobile contest today over the Auvergne course, Thery, the French champion, winning, after an exciting contest with the Italian champion Lancia. An enormous crowd witnessed the race and gave an enthusiastic greeting to Thery as he crossed the line a winner.

Soon after the start Lancia began to draw up on Thery, finally passing him and securing six minutes lead, when his machine broke down. Thereafter Thery had the race his own way, finishing in seven hours and ten minutes, with Cagno, another Italian, second; Nazzari third, Callois fourth and Earp fifth.

Three Americans started, but they did not make a notable showing. There was considerable surprise among the contestants at this. Lyttle, who was the only American to finish, came in twelfth.

Count Thiezy, while driving an automobile to attend the international race, collided with a stone wall near the small town of Lepuy and received injuries which caused his death two hours later. A lady who accompanied him was dangerously injured.

PURE BLOOD INSURES A CLEAR SKIN

When Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Pimples, or other skin diseases make their appearance it is a sure sign that the blood is filled with humors and burning acids. These being forced through the pores and glands burn and blister the skin, producing the eruptions which are usually accompanied with intense itching, and are disfiguring and humiliating.

Years ago my blood was bad, as evidenced by skin eruptions on different parts of the body, and other symptoms, so I concluded to try S. S. S., knowing it to be highly spoken of. After using a number of bottles—do not remember now just how much—my blood was thoroughly purified and enriched and I was relieved of all eruptions and manifestations of impure blood. I believe S. S. S. to be an excellent blood medicine, and any one in need of such a medicine would do well to use it. They will find it a perfect cure as it proved to be in my case. MRS. C. E. SHOEMAKER. Alliance, O., 516 E. Patterson St.

While external treatment relieves temporarily it does not reach the real cause of the disease, because it does not go into the blood. S. S. S., a perfect blood purifier, neutralizes these acids and humors, and by strengthening and toning up the Liver, Kidneys and Bowels, the natural channels of bodily waste, disposes of them instead of allowing them to be forced to the surface through the skin. S. S. S. is the greatest of all tonics for building up the entire system, increasing the appetite and helping the digestion.

SSS PURELY VEGETABLE.

S. S. S. cures all skin diseases promptly and permanently, leaving the skin soft and smooth. Only by keeping the blood pure can we hope to have a clear skin. Book on Skin Diseases and any medical advice you may wish free of charge.

COTTON TOUCHED NEW HIGH LEVEL

Advance Was Sharp in Middle of the Session.

Followed in the Afternoon by an Equallly Severe Decline, with Prices at the Close Showing Little Change from Monday's Finals.

New York, July 5.—The cotton market was again exceedingly active, sales being estimated at fully a million bales, and fluctuations continued very broad. A sharp advance in the middle session was followed by an equally severe decline during the afternoon, and prices at the close showed little change as compared with Monday's finals. The opening was irregular at an advance of 12 to 28 points, this being hardly a response to the sensational gains in the English market over the Fourth. Realizing was very heavy, but, after working off a few points from the opening figures, the market rallied on a continued demand through wire and commission houses, and reached the high point of the day shortly after the weekly crop report, at noon, although this stated that the condition of the crop showed some improvement. October sold at 10.86 and January touched 11 cents, or net gains of about 35 to 39 points. At these figures, it was reported that leading bulls were selling actively, both in the southern and New York markets, and prices lost almost all their gain under general liquidation. The close was at practically the low point of the session, but steady at a net advance of 2 to 4 points. Southern spot markets, according to official reports were 1-4 to 1 cent higher, with some points reporting fair sales. The local spot market was 30 points higher, but no business was reported.

New Orleans Cotton Market.

New Orleans, July 5.—Spot cotton in good demand at full prices. Sales 3,450 bales, including 300 to arrive and 100 f. o. b. Quotations advanced 1-8c.

Futures opened quiet at an advance of from 18 to 24 points. A large business was done. The weekly bureau report at 11 o'clock was bullish, causing an advance of 10 to 15 points. A prominent bull leader then began to sell July cotton at 13 points below board quotations, and declared that prices were going up too rapidly. Almost immediately prices all along the line began to decline, and by noon were 11 to 15 points below the highest of the day. Liverpool houses cabled that they believed a reaction was in order and that spinners had refused to follow the advance. July opened at 10.85, sold up to 10.92 and then declined to 10.53. October opened at 10.64, advanced to 10.67 and finally declined to 10.47. The market closed quiet, with prices unchanged to 2 points above Monday's finals.

The Liverpool Cotton Market.

Liverpool, July 5, 12:15 p. m.—Cotton, spot, demand limited with prices firm; middling uplands 6.03; sales 7,000 bales; American 6,500; speculation and export 500; receipts 5,000; American 4,900.

Weekly Summary Crop Conditions.

Washington, July 5.—The weather bureau's weekly bulletin summarizes the crop conditions as follows:

The northern districts of the country experienced temperatures too low for rapid growth, but in the southern states the temperatures were highly favorable. Excessively heavy rains of the central and west gulf districts northward over the western portion of the central valleys, while relieving drought in Missouri were injurious in places and interfered extensively with cultivation.

Corn has made excellent growth over the greater part of the corn belt and, except in the upper Missouri and lower Ohio valleys, where rains have retarded cultivation, the crop is clean and well advanced. Considerable has been laid by in Illinois, Missouri and Kansas. Late corn in the southern states is suffering for cultivation.

Winter wheat harvest is well advanced in the northern portion of the winter wheat belt and is practically finished in Illinois, Missouri and eastern Kansas. Rain has caused injury to grain in shock in Texas, Tennessee and Kentucky.

Spring wheat has advanced rapidly throughout the spring wheat region and continues in promising condition.

A fine crop of oats is indcated in the principal producing states.

While cotton is generally improved and has made good growth throughout, the cotton belt the crop is much in need of sunshine and cultivation in the central and western districts, in portions of which too rank growth is reported. Except in the central districts cotton is generally fruiting well. Boll weevil and other pests are in Texas and Louisiana.

Tobacco is suffering from drought in central North Carolina and from lack of cultivation in Kentuckly. Elsewhere this crop is doing well.

Reports generally indicate an apple crop much below average in all sections.

Considerable hay was damaged by rains in Iowa and Tennessee.

COTTON—October ruled very strong at 10 3-4c today—just as strong as it did at 9 3-4c or 8 3-4c. The advance does not seem to change sentiment or the tone. The market does not seem to be any more a short sale now than when lower. In fact, the more inflamed the speculative wind becomes, the harder the market gets, and this will continue until the price reaches a point where the last buyer has no one as enthusiastic as himself to sell to. Then there will be the inevitable revlusion of feeling and a wild market. There are no signs of it as yet. There is likely to be another rapid advance at any time, but prices are now so high that it is very hard to guess the market. There is nothing in the market upon which to base operations. Ten cents is not high, 11c is not high nor is 12c, if we are to have a short crop, but who can know in June that the weather in July and August will ruin the crop. It may make a good one. There lies the danger in the present speculation. When Sully bulled it from 10c to 17 1-2c we had a 10,000,000 crop. That was a matter of knowledge. There was no reserve supply. Now we have a good supply and no man can tell what the crop will be. It is a time for caution. The weekly report showed more progress. This is the fourth weekly report showing an improvement, but the government says a deterioration. Some one ought to call for an investigation of the weather bureau now.

WHEAT—There was a wild rush to buy at the start, due to heavy rains that brought out many bad reports in the northwest, but early prices were the highest of the day, advantage being taken to liquidate long wheat, while about the last remnants of the short interest were eliminated. There was a surfeit of bull news regarding crop damage, but also some very good reports as well, and these were accepted literally, local operators being convinced that the spring wheat crop was in better shape than reported. The selling was fast and furious, many weak longs liquidating through the extensive break. In the event of further declines appearing in September wheat, we would favor purchases.

CORN—The market displayed considerable strength, although there was an increase in the visible, as well as the contract stocks here and large receipts. The old bull crowd were buyers of September. There was not much inclination shown to sell any of the futures, while the bad break in wheat contributed but little effect. The bureau report was regarded as bearish, but private advices from many sections indicate that the crop is not looking any too well.

OATS—Futures were bid up early, but met free realizing, a good class of commission house buying appearing, however, in September that was bid up to a new high level. Prices weakened with wheat, the sample market selling off also, while a bearish construction was placed on the bureau report. Well posted people in the trade are very bullish on oats, and we still believe that purchases of September should be made on all dips.

PROVISIONS—The market was heavy, local packers and stock yards crowd selling lard and ribs, the larke stock of the former proving quite a bearish factor. The trade are inclined toward lower prices, but should further declines appear, we look for good support.

STOCKS—Although the quotations sent from London this morning were nominally lower, prices at the opening here were strong. During the morning all active stocks made new high prices for the present movement. Tennessee Coal and Iron gained almost 5 points. The Hoadley pool in this stock are confident of raising it above the high level of last spring. Reading as usual made a new high record. Foreign houses sold at the opening, but were liberal buyers later. Union Pacific crossed 130 on a heavy volume of trading. Prices continued to harden until noon, but the advance had been too rapid, and during the afternoon a reaction set in which wiped out most of the early advances. The heaviest sellers of stock today were the Gates crowd. This liquidation was not unexpected, in view of the fact that Gates in an interview gave a bullish opinion on stocks. Wall street has come to regard Mr. Gates' bullish interviews as the forerunner of breaks in the market. Today's reaction was several days overdue, and not at all unexpected. The technical position of the market has been greatly improved, and the recession cannot be regarded but as a healthy one. We believe that in the event of a weak opening tomorrow morning stocks can be bought safely.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

COTTON—The trade awaited the resumption of business after the holiday with some trepedition which the advance of about 70 points in Liverpool did not lessen. The opening was tame, and at the moderate improvement cotton was freely offered, and while the gain did not paralel that abroad, during the forenoon the differences adjusteted themselves and prices were very sensitive to the influences of the moment. So far as a conservative view can be taken, it would appear that the advance had discounted the bureau estimate. More buying would undoubtedly unnerve the trade. Consumers of cotton must adjust themselves to the new conditions made by the estimate, and this cannot be done quickly. Meanwhile the accuracy of the report is questioned, as a weekly improvement had been noted. The sentiment is, however, very naturally averse to lower prices for the present, having been awed to an acceptance of the departmental returns. During the afternoon the market appeared to have ben bought to a standstill on the earlier advance anr the general local desire to realize found no supporting orders. Short lines have been put out today. The spot market was quiet at 30 points advance.

"WATCH THE WHITE STAR BUGGY"

SELLING HEAVY IN LATE SESSION

Extremely Bearish Bureau Report the Influence.

September Wheat Closed 2 to 2 1-8c Lower—Break in Wheat Induced Profit Taking in Corn, but Prices at Close Were Firm.

Chicago, July 5.—An official report declaring spring sown wheat to be in excellent condition caused extreme weakness in the wheat market here today. At the close September delivery was nearly 4c below the highest figures of the day, or 2@2 1-8c down, compared with Saturday's final quotations. Corn is up 3-8@1-2c. Oats are off 1-8c. Provisions show a loss of 15@20c.

No signs of weakness were in evidence in the wheat market at the opening. On the contrary, sentiment was decidedly bullish, initial quotations on September being up 3-8@1 5-8c at 90@91 1-4c. The market was influenced almost exclusively by the situation surrounding spring sown wheat, continued rains in the northwest being construed as altogether unfavorable for the proper development of the crop. A number of bearish factors were apparently ignored altogether by the majority of traders. Lower cables and a liberal increase in world's shipments constituted the principal elements of a bearishing nature. For the first few minutes of trading shorts and commission houses were active buyers. Small longs, who saw considerable profits in sight, sold in sufficient volume to cause a loss of most of the opening gain. Later the bulls were further encouraged to withhold offerings by reports made by two prominent crop experts asserting that spring wheat ha dbeen seriously damaged by rust. Toward the middle of the session a crop report given out by the weather bureau at Washington almost flatly contradicting the damage reports and caused a slump in prices. According to the government report, the condition of spring sown wheat is excellent, little damage comparatively having been done by rust. Under general profit taking the September option dropped to 87 1-4@87 3-8c. Sentiment continued bearish the remainder of the day, the market closing weak with September at 87 1-4@87 3-8c. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 126,000 bushels. The amount on passage increased 1,438,000 and the visible supply decreased 304,000 bushels a year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 405 cars, against 80 last week and 889 a year ago.

Notwithstanding a number of bearish influences the corn market was firm throughout the entire session. Shorts were active buyers. Higher prices at Liverpool formed the bullish factor. Primary receipts were large, world's shipments showed a liberal increase and crop reports were bearish. The market closed firm in spite of the weakness of wheat. September opened 1-4c higher at 54 7-8c, sold between 54 1-2@55 1-2c, closing at 55@55 1-8c. Local receipts were 1,685 cars, with 667 of contract grade.

Fluctuations in wheat were the controlling influences in the oats market. Early in the day the market was quite firm, but following the break in wheat prices reacted considerable. Bearish reports concerning the new crop furnished additional cause for profit taking later in the session. September opened 1-4@3-8c higher at 31 7-8@32c, sold between 31 3-8@32 1-8c and closed at 31 1-2c. Receipts were 460 cars.

Provisions were weak under moderate selling of lard by packers. An increase in stocks of lard for the month was an important factor bearing on the weakness. Another factor was a decline of 5c in the price of live hogs. At the close September pork was off 20c at 12.82 1-2. Lard was down 15c at $7.32 1-2. Ribs were 15@17 1-2c lower at $7.80.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat 93 cars; corn 936 cars; oats 237 cars; hogs 31,000 head.

The leading futures ranged as follows:

COTTON—Liverpool cables this morning reflected the effect of the government crop report in comparison with our closing prices on Monday. Our market opened strong and later advanced to a new high level. The government figures of 77 for June seem to be given credence in all quarters, both in this country and abroad. Realizing to some extent was noticeable both on Monday and today, but there seems to be a new buying element to hold prices firm around the 11c level, especially for early spring options. Tuesday's weather map was not unfavorable, temperatures and rainfall being moderate. Today's map was about the same and forecast for tonight and tomorrow is for showers and thunderstorms over scattered areas throughout the state. The government report today for the week states that crop has made good growth, but is in need of sunshine and cultivation. Boll weevil and other insects are active in Louisiana. It is to be expected that a less active demand for spot cotton will follow a continued rise from present range of prices and realizing sales in the option list will continue. Market will be eagerly watched for any reaction to allow those who got out with a profit to reenter the market on first opportunity. We do not anticipate much pressure from the effect of the visible and invisible supply, which is about 2,000,000 bales in excess of last year, unless crop reports become still more unfavorable. We do not expect much further advance from present level.

COTTON.

New York, July 5, 1905.—I understand that I am generally accused of having sold my cotton, gone short, turned bear and other like crimes. Such reports have been current on every twenty point advance during the past fortnight. To those who doubt, or have doubted my sincerity, they can make no difference. To those who attach any importance to my opinion, I would say that it is my confident belief that cotton will sell much higher, and the fact that I sell or buy will not affect the issue one iota. The influences at work are fundamental and transcend the operations of any one man or group of men. Briefly, there is a demand for 14,000,000 bales of cotton at current prices, and a prospective crop of only about 10,000,000. The situation, in my opinion, permits of no adjustment except through a further and startling advance in prices. Realizing that a "one man market" is always a dangerous market, I have today purposely confused the trade as to whether I have bought or sold. I am always at liberty to do either. I do not care to have any one buy because I am buying or sell because I am selling. To those who would operate on the facts I would say that in my opinion they point in one direction only, and that is toward much higher prices.

RESULTS

Our Seamless Warm Air Furnace not only saves in fuel the difference in cost inside of three years over the other style of furnaces, but at the end of 3 years begins to pay a dividend:

Comparative cost our Furnace..	$250.00
First year, 10 tons soft coal	32.50
Second year, 10 tons soft coal	32.50
Third year, 10 tons soft coal	32.50
	$347.50
Any other furnace	$150.00
First year, 10 tons hard coal	90.00
Second year, 10 tons hard coal..	90.00
Third year, 10 tons hard coal.. ..	90.00
	$420.00

Besides, ours is made of the highest grade of Locomotive Steel and has no fire pots to burn out, costing $25 to $50, to replace. Our Furnace is guaranteed dust, soot and gas proof. See what Mr. C. R. Winship, No. 630 Edgewood avenue, says of our Furnace:

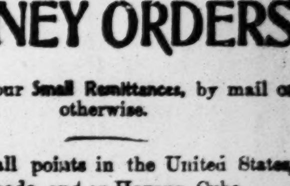

"The results obtained from the Seamless Warm Air Furnace which you installed in my house last fall has been perfectly satisfactory in every respect. I had no difficulty in keeping the temperature 70 degrees during the coldest weather, consuming during the entire winter about 10 tons of run of mine coal, price $3.25 per ton, delivered. We were not troubled with disagreeable gases, smoke and dust coming through the registers, as is usually the case when other makes of furnace are used. I consider it the best on the market."

We have customers running our Furnaces on less than $18 a year. If you want the best and most economical Furnace made, get us to estimate on our Seamless.

GOOD OLD TIME ON THE FOURTH

Citizens of Clayton Celebrate Independence Day.

Speeches Made by Prominent Georgians and a Regular Old-Fashion Barbecue Was Enjoyed—The Crowd Numbered About Six Thousand.

Clayton, Ga., July 5.—(Special.)—The Fourth of July was celebrated here in a grand way, the Tallulah Falls Railway Company, the Masonic fraternity and the citizens of Clayton generally uniting to make the occasion a pronounced success.

The first speaker was Charles L. Bass, of Clarkesville, whose remarks had special reference to the order of Masonry. Captain Lyman Hall made a short but interesting address, telling of the grand mission of the Georgia Technological school. Quite a number of Rabun's sons made up their minds to enter his school. Captain Edward Brobston, of Brunswick, made the industrial speech, and while doing so he chanced to notice several Hoke Smith badges, whereupon he paused and said:

"Fellow citizens, when we were trying to have a fair a few years ago at Tallulah Falls, for the purpose of calling the attention of the outside world to this grand country of yours, Mr. Clark Howell tendered to you, through me, the columns of The Constitution." He could not go further for the applause which greeted his remark.

After Mr. Brobston's speech the people did justice to the barbecue which was in waiting.

Dr. L. G. Hardman, of Commerce, made the educational address, which was a masterful effort.

Hon. Jake Moore, warden of the state prison, made a short talk, which was full of wit and humor. In closing he called for all present to join him in the song, "Home, Sweet Home," which he led, and the echo of full four thousand voices was reverberated from the fastnesses of the near-by mountains. The crowd was variously estimated at from four to six thousand persons.

DEATH OF MRS. W. J. STOKES.

Body of Deceased Will Be Taken to Washington, Ga., Today.

The body of Mrs. W. J. Stokes, who died at her residence near Decatur Tuesday morning, will be taken to Washington, Ga., at 8 o'clock this morning for funeral and interment.

The body has been lying in the parlors of Barclay & Brandon. The announcement of the death of Mrs. Stokes has caused profound sorrow in hundreds of Atlanta homes, where she was known and loved.

Surviving her are two daughters.

MASSENGALE WILL SPEAK.

Atlantan Will Address Press Associations of North Carolina and Virginia.

St. Elmo Massengale, of Atlanta, the head of the Massengale Advertising Agency, will deliver an address today to the members of the North Carolina and Virginia Press associations, which are holding a joint convention at Asheville, N. C.

Mr. Massengale has quite a reputation as a speaker, and it is safe to say that he will charm as well as interest his hearers today. He has chosen for his subject, "The Relation of the Newspaper Publisher to the Advertising Agent."

Mr. Massengale left the city last night for Asheville.

CORNER STONE OF SCHOOL.

Work To Begin at Once on the New Edgewood School Building.

Elaborate arrangements are being made for the laying of the corner stone of the new and handsome school building being erected by the municipality of Edgewood. The event will take place at 4 o'clock in the afternoon of July 7.

The exercises will be under the auspices of the Edgewood Masonic lodge, and Grand Master Max Meyerhardt, of Rome, will deliver the principal address of the occasion. The programme will include other noteworthy features, music and Masonic ceremonial work.

The new building is to cost $15,000, and will be both handsome and modern in every feature. It will prove a distinct artistic ornament to Edgewood, and will also mark a new era in the rapid progress of the little city, already so prosperous and pretty.

Have Been Disbanded.

Raleigh, N. C., July 5.—(Special.)—The Beaufort division of North Carolina brigade of naval reserves has been disbanded. The officials say that the reserve have no vessel upon which to take cruises and that there is in fact nothing for them to do, and that hence interest is languid.

Montgomery Man Wins.

Montgomery, Ala., July 5.—(Special.)—At a meeting of the new capitol commission today the first prize for plans for remodeling and enlarging the capitol was given Frank Lockwood, of Montgomery. This gives him the contract. B. B. Smith, of Montgomery, gets second prize of $500, and J. W. Golucke & Co., of Atlanta, third, $250.

The plans involve the general remodeling of the building with a south wing costing $70,000 for the judiciary to go up at once.

GOLD ENGAGEMENT BROKE MARKET

Prices Crumbled Under Heavy Realizing Sales.

Decline in the Active Stocks Ranged from 9 to 2 Points, While Gains in Other Stocks Were Wiped Out—Closed Weak.

New York, July 5.—In spite of a relapse in prices late in the day there was no mistaking the aggressive strength of the forces behind today's continued speculation in stocks. There was evidence of some extension of interest in the market in the character of the busiess by commission houses when trading began, and it was evident that there was some feeding of this demand to take profits by those who have been buying previously. Support was not abandoned under the influence still of the organized speculative forces which have conducted the present advance from its inception. The continuance of maneuvers to sustain prices created a belief that the distribution of stocks accumulated in the course of the late rise is not completed, although the digestive process was going on actively today. News matters were disregarded at the outset, so far as they were adverse to the compaign for the advance. The feverishness of the cotton market offered no ground for revising the serious view of the crop outlook induced by the government report on Monday. There was some special pressure to realize in consequence in the stocks of cotton carrying railroads. The bond market still showed very little effect from any demand for investment. There was, however, some activity in the new issues of bonds convertible into those stocks which have been made active in the present movement. It was in the minor iron and steel industrials that the new force in the semi-professional speculation was believed to make the largest effort. Strength of the local tractions and record holiday traffic yesterday was promptly taken advantage of for profit taking. The resumption of the gold export movement late in the day discouraged the flagging efforts to keep up prices. The definite announcement of the offering here of a one-third instalment, or $50,000,000, of a new Japanese loan, the withdrawal o the 15 of government deposits and the persistence of the Paris demand for gold clouded the future of the money market. The rush to sell on the gold announcement shook the market badly and left remnants of gains in only a few of the strongest stocks. Losses of 1 to 2 points resulted for some of the leading stocks.

We Study to Please
Our patrons by giving them prescription exactness. During sickness human life is at stake and the quality of the medicine prescribed is an important factor in the patient's welfare. The prescription should be put up exactly as written by the doctor and the ingredients used of the first quality. "Near enough" is an unknown quality in our laboratory and in our prescription department. Everything must be "just right" or it cannot live here.
